WANTS BIG 3 MEET

Second Europe Front Must Wait Until Its Success Is Assured

QUEBEC, Aug. 31—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today that "nothing is nearer to the wishes of President Roosevelt and myself than to have a three-fold meeting with Marshal Stalin," but he declared that an allied second front would be opened on the continent only when there was every chance of military success unswayed by political considerations.

The prime minister said he did not blame Russia for any criticism it had levelled at the allies for not having launched a new offensive in western Europe.

He made it clear, however, that the positive factor of military success was paramount.

Wants to Meet Stalin.

"The president and I will perservere in our efforts to meet Marshal Stalin," he said, in a broadcast address.

"And in the meantime it seems most necessary and urgent that a conference of the British, United States and Russian foreign ministers or their responsible representatives should be held at some convenient place in order not merely to explore the various important questions connected with the future arrangemnts for world security, but to carry their discussions to a point where the heads of states and governments may be able to intervene."

Looks Forward To Day.

The prime ministers, refreshed from his labors at the Quebec war council by a week of fishing in the Laurentian mountains, turned again to the question of a second front in Europe, declaring:

"We once had a fine front in France, but it was torn to pieces by the concentrated might of Hitler, and it is easier to have a front pulled down than it is to build it up again."

However, he went on: "I look forward to the day when British and American liberating armies

M'Curdy Is Made Night Police Captain

. . . Other Promotions

Effective immediately, a number of promotions in the police department were announced jointly Tuesday by Cobe S. Venner, director of public safety, and Police Chief Joe Carroll. The advancements are the outcome of recent resignations to accept employment elsewhere, or to join the armed forces.

Detective Sgt. C. H. McCurdy has been promoted to night captain at a salary of $200 a month. He has been receiving $170, having worked his way up to detective sergeant, after joinmg the force on September 15, 1928.

Harold Graves Promoted.

Detective Harold Graves, who has been a police officer since April 16, 1928, has been advanced to detective sergeant, and assigned to the morals squad at a salary of $170 a month. This is an increase from $160.

Dale Ruemelin, a motorcycle officer, has been appointed night street sergeant. He will be paid $160 a month, an increase of $10 over his pay as a motorcycle officer. He has been a member of the department since January 25, 1937.

After having been a member of the force for seven years, Detective Gilbert Griess resigned Tuesday to accept an appointment to a civil service post in the postoffice. His leaving increases to five the number of vacancies on the department, all of which will be filled as soon as suitable applicants can be qualified.

Director Venner has not yet reached a decision on whom to appoint as a police woman to work on the delinquency problem among young girls. He has several well qualified applicants, but does not intend to "act too hastily" because of the importance of the post.

That there has been a trend toward an improvement in the juvenile delinquency problem was the belief of Chief Carroll. There was a noticeable change in July, he declared, but he has not been able to determine whether it continued through August.

The trend should continue, the chief said, with the opening of school, and an apparent assuming of greater responsibility over their children by parents. This latter condition has come about through the publicity given delinquency, bringing the problem squarely to the attention of fathers and mothers.

2 Nurses Volunteer For Service At Fair

Opal Drieth, county nurse, and Ada Eichbaum, superintendent of city health nurses, will be on duty each day at the hospital building located on the state fair ground, during the entire week of the exposition. They will offer their services free of charge to thos needing it, according to Ed Miille, state fair secretary.

LT. H. R. VAN GUNDY.

Lt. Van Gundy, U. of N. Student, Dies In Action

Lieut. H. R. Van Gundy was killed in action in North Africa, Aug. 18, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Ruth Van Gundy, 222 North Eighteenth street. A letter from his brother, Pfc. Ronald Van Gundy, who was with him in North Africa at the time of his death, arrived Monday night.

The two brothers, who had not seen each other for nearly two years, met again for the first time May 17. They were together not long before Lieut. Van Gundy was killed. Pfc. Van Gundy was present at his brother's burial.

Lieut. Van Gundy, a member of the Nebraska national guard, entered the army Dec. 23, 1941. Graduating from infantry officer's candidate school at Ft. Benning, Ga., Sept. 2, 1942, he was sent overseas immediately.

A graduate of Lincoln high school, previous to his entering the service he attended the University of Nebraska. He was a member of Ben Hur lodge, and the Knights of Columbus.

Surviving, besides his mother and brother, are his father, George Van Gundy of Lincoln, and another brother, Pfc. Alfred Van Gundy, stationed at Camp Polk, La.

OPA To Stage Drive Against Black Markets

. . . Groups Discuss Plans

If thee's a black market in Lincoln participants had better start worrying for the OPA is out to put a stop to all such activities. A meeting of the civilian defense committee along with other interested groups in Lincoln was held Tuesday noo nat the chamber of commerce preliminary to initiating a campaign to induce all Lincoln citizens to sign pledges not to pay more for any rationed article than the ceiling price.

Hart Explains Plan.

Eugene F. Hart, state information officer for the OPA, attended the meeting and explained the campaign now being set up in Omaha. The objective of the Lincoln campaign will be two-fold, first to see that all OPA ceiling prices are observed and secondly to do away will all black markets.

The group appointed Viola Erickson to handle all publicity for the campaign, and Mrs. Ralph Beechner, president of the PTA council, to reorganize the block leders to hndle distribution of pledges. Opening dtes for the campaign will be set as soon as the block leaders can be organized to do the work. Mrs. Beerhner will work with E. L. Smith, chairman of the block leader campaign for the civilian defense organization.

"I wish to express the views of the city administration," Mayor Lloyd Marti stated, "by saying that it is a fine campaign for Lincoln citizens to sponsor. It will be educational and will impress on all, the importance of observing price regulations and rationing rules. Each citizen who will sign such a pledge is doing his share towards preventing inflation. I am happy to see so many different organizations interested in the campaign."

Organizations represented besides the civilian defense group were: the municipal defense council, parent teachers association, women's division of the chamber of commerce, retail division of the chamber of commerce, the Lincoln Food Retailers association and the consumers business relations association.

—WYOMING MEETING—

Griswold Mum On Bricker

. . . But Admits G.O.P. Politics Discussed

Mum was the word for Governor Griswold's attitude Tuesday following his return from the weekend "caucus" of Governor John Bricker, Ohio, former Governor Nels Smith, Wyoming, former Governor Ralph Carr, Colorado, and U. S. Senator Harlan Bushfield at a Wyoming ranch.

The governor admitted that politics, republican politics, had been the chief topic of conversation, but when queried as to Bricker's contemplated bid for the 1944 republican presidential nomination, he smiled and said,

"I think I'll let Bricker make his own announcement."

Silent On Self.

The governor was equally reticent concerning his own plans for the 1944 national republican picture, explaining, "We didn't get down to the vice presidential spot on either the democratic or republican ticket."

(Governor Griswold has been mentioned as a possible running mate for Bricker on the 1944 ticket, along with other governors, including Governor Leverett Saltonstall of Massachussetts.)

If there had been any discussion of Governor Saltonstall and his possible assets as a vice presidential candidate, however, Governor Griswold had failed to hear any at this particular conference.

He was anticipating a second conference for which he will leave Thursday of this week. The conference has been called by Harrison Spangler, republican national committee chairman, at Mackinac, Wis., which Governor Griswold defined as a "preliminary 1944 platform conference."

"Big Three" Uninvited.

Neither Landon, Willkie nor Hoover will be invited to the Mackinac meeting, Griswold said, although he added that "possibly we might get into telephone communication with one or the other of them."

International affairs will mainly occupy the minds of the 24 republican governors, the five U. S. senators, the seven congressmen and the 12 national committeemen in attendance, Governor Griswold amplified.

"The domestic policy is pretty well formulated—we just know we can run things better than Roosevelt," he asserted.

Becomes "Sioux Indian."

A lighter moment appeared during the press conference when Governor Griswold explained the honorary ceremony presented the visiting governors by the Sioux Indian tribe. Governor Griswold was initiated into the band, presented with a fringed leather vest and given an Indian name, meaning "Runs Five Times."

Governor Bricker, who went through the same ceremony, was given the Indian name, meaning "Horse Comes Out."

The Sioux had nothing to say, however, about the "dark" part of that particular horse.

WFA Reports Army Butter Needs Cut During September

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—The regional office of the war food administration reported today a departmental order from Washington announced that September military butter requirements had been reduced to 20 per cent of production from 30 per cent and advised that no butter need be set aside for military purposes in October.

This was expected to result in an increase in the butter supply available for civilian consumption.

Seek Drop Custodial Service at Emerald

The Burlington railroad applied to the state railway commission Tuesday for permission to discontinue custodial service at Emerald, six miles west of Lincoln. The railroad says that only a few carloads of grain and sand and gravel are shipped annually at this point while this service could be done through Lincoln just as well since an improved highway connects with Emerald. Mail for Emerald is handled by a rural route with the exception of a few newspapers. Tabulation of expense for operating the service since 940 is given at $1,934 and revenue directly collected at the station considerably below that figure.

Bombers Pound At Rhineland

. . . In 4th Year Windup

LONDON, Aug. 31—(AP)—Following up a heavy RAF attack on the Rhineland, American Marauders today raided a German airfield at Lille-Vanderville in France and a power station at Mazingarbe, France.

Headquarters of the Eighth American air force called the attacks "successful." One of the B-26 medium bombers is missing.

One fighter from the RAF, allied and dominion Spitfire escort which accompanied the bombers also was listed as missing.

Preliminary reports showed three enemy fighters were destroyed.

A Thunderous Close.

Mighty fleets of heavy and medium bombers roared across over the continent to bring the fourth year of the war to a thunderous close.

The war-busy industrial cities of Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydt were hammered by the RAF bombers last nght, a communique announced, while Mosquito bombers raided Duisberg at the same time, ending a two-day lull in the aerial offensive.

Twenty-eight bombers were lost.

A virtual unbroken procession of raiders began drumming across the coast at daybreak close on the heels of the massive RAF sweep again the sprawling Rhineland industrial area.

German broadcasts reported 25 raiders shot down and said Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydt had been especially hard hit.

The population suffered losses and considerable damage was caused to churches, schools, hospitals residences and public buildings, the Germans asserted.

Other targets in France and the low countries were also attacked during the night's operations.

Planning 'Plus' Necessary For Post-War Era

. . . Says M. D. Johnson

"Post-war development means planning plus completion, rather than just planning," emphasized Milburn D. Johnson, secretary of the Associated General Contractors, at the Rotary club meeting in the Lincoln hotel, Tuesday.

Johnson stated that this post-war development is a great challenge for the private enterprises, and, because of self-preservation, the public is broadly accepting the challenge, but that it should also analyze its own post-war needs, and back these needs with its won pocketbook. He explained that if this was done, the individual returns would not come from just the resulting improvements, but that it would result in a national peace-time prosperity.

"We in Lincoln can be justly proud of the program our leaders, through the chamber of commerce and city council, are developing—post-war work based upon a one-hundred per cent private enterprise program," Johnson concluded.

Sidney S. Anderson and Milton F. Barlow were introduced as new members of the club.

BIG ITALIAN TRANSPORT DESTROYED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—A 50,000-ton Italian transport of the Conte Di Savoia class was sunk recently by bombs from two American A-36 invader fighter-bombers as it lay at anchor at Bagnara in southwestern Italy, the war department announced today.

Another formation of invaders, the department said, recently scored a direct hit on an Italian cruiser near the southwest coast of Italy.

Omaha Has 4th Polio Death This Summer

OMAHA, Aug. 31—(AP)—Dennis Hood, 15, Omaha, died today of poliomyelitis, bringing to four the number of deaths from that diseaase in Omaha this summer. At least 23 cases are under treatment, city health department and local hospital records disclosed.

Two additional cases reported included a 16-year-old Oaakland, Ia., youth under treatment at a hospital and a five-year-old girl being treated at her home in south Omaha.

Escaped Inmate Caught

. . . In Denver

Howard Earl Deeds, escaped inmate of the state hospital, has been apprehended in Denver and is being held by the police department there, according to word received by Warden Neil Olson of the state penitentiary and local police.

Warden Olson said that he would leave Tuesday or Wednesday night to bring the fugitive back to Lincoln.

FBI agents at Omaha said Deeds was picked up in Denver and held for the FBI because he had no draft registration card. He is being held in Denver for Nebraska authorities. No information was received as to Deed's method of transportation to Denver.

Deeds escaped last Friday night from the hospital to which he was committed from the penitentiary as hopelessly insane approximately a year and a half ago.

He was serving a 20-year sentence from Grand Island on three consecutive rape counts at the time of his commitment to the hospital.

THIS MONTH OF SEPTEMBER

War Summary

By J. E. LAWRENCE.

Tuesday, August 31, 1943.

ORDINARILY in September the English channel gains its liberation from the fogs and the sudden squalls that make it a difficult stretch of water for transportation throughout most of the year, and especially in the fall and winter. Berlin, daily becoming more jittery in fear of continental invasion, reported great concentrations of allied warships and transport vessels both along the British coast, and at three of the principal north African ports. Berlin sensed that something was cooking, and uneasily Tuesday contemplated the possibility of continental invasion from two sides.

LIMITED OPPORTUNITY—If the allies do plan to strike against Hitler, using the British Isles as a base, the blow must be launched—barring a special dispensation by nature—before the opening day of October. It is in October that the gales lash the waters of the channel, and of the North sea angrily and uglily. The hazards of a landing expedition of the magnitude necessary for successful invasion would be increased greatly. The return of fogs all but blotting out visibility would make air protection essential to the success of landings without the costliest of prices, extremely difficult. Berlin's propaganda bureau Tuesday may have been fishing, but dispatches routed through Stockholm quoted German military circles as saying that the last few days of nazi reconnaissance of the Mediterranean had revealed "large allied ship gatherings" at Bizerte and Oran, the huge bases in Tunisia and Algeria, and at the port of Augusta on the eastern coast of Sicily. German scout planes, the same sources also said, have uncovered vast concentrations of allied warships, transports, and landing craft off the southeast coast of England. Rome added its contribution that "general opinion" in Italy was that the penetration of the continent by allied forces will not be long in developing.

FOUR YEARS OF WAR—When the grey dawn breaks over Poland Wednesday morning, Europe will have echoed to four years of war. It was the opening day of September in 1939 when Hitler sent his mechanized legions and his airforces pounding into Poland. He chose the date wisely because ahead of him was a month of the best military weather Poland provides. Summer heat was moderated. Clear skies were assured. And so a considerable distance away summer heat in the Mediterranean also is largely past, and the fogs and rains and winds of the English channel will be either more subdued or wholly absent under normal conditions throughout the next four weeks.

CAPITALIZING FULLY—Whatever may have been the allied plans, events of a week provide opportunities for the united nations to capitalize upon Hitler's dire plight. Again Tuesday the Russians were going stronger. In another special order issued just before nightfall, Stalin was able to announce that Smolensk, the key nazi defense bastion for a greater part of the axis crumbling central front, had come under direct threat when Russian columns stormed irresistibly into strategic Yelnya, which is only 45 miles to the southeast of Smolensk. And further south other soviet columns were storming westward along the northern shore of the sea of Azov from out of Taganrog, and were reported to be only 26 miles from Stalino in the heart of the Donets basin. But it was seething Denmark and Bulgaria that drew virtually as much attention as was accorded battlefield developments. Established in Denmark, by a drive across the North sea, the road would be open due south through Schleswig-Holstein to the heart of Germany. Bulgaria, it could be believed, would be out in 24 hours except that she is at the mercy of the nazis.

TWIN CITIES THEIR TARGET—Again during the night, massive forces of British bombers, hundreds of the huge Lancasters, blistered the industrial area of Muenchen-Gladdach and Rheydt in the Rhineland, the British air ministry announced, while the smaller wooden Mosquito bombers were taking care of the German city of Duisburg. Twenty-eight bombers were lost. The skies over the English channel throughout the night and in the early morning hours Tuesday echoed to the throb of planes carrying destruction to targets in Germany and German-occupied territory. In addition to the missions already mentioned, other squadrons turned to airfields in France and the low countries. The night activity followed heavy daylight raids upon St. Omer in northern France, where there is a network of nazi airfields and communication. Throughout the morning Tuesday the roar of plane motors over the southern coast of England was almost deafening. Berlin admitted considerable damage to non-military property in Muenchen-Glabbach and Rheydt, which are twin industrial cities about 20 miles from the Dutch border.

TORMENT FOR ITALY—Italy was tormented similarly. There was no letup in the continuous air attacks upon Italian communication lines, airfields, and other military installations in raids which shot 21 axis planes out of the sky. One of the heaviest bombings overtook the Viterbo airfield, 40 miles to the north of Rome. The Aversa railyards 10 miles north of Naples and the switching depot of Civitavecchia 35 miles to the northwest of Rome, were hard hit. Opposition was encountered at Viterbo and Aversa.

STALINO IS MENACED

. . . Onrushing Soviets Sweep Far Beyond Taganrog

(By the Associated Press)

Russia's victorious armies smashing toward the great German stronghold of Smolensk on the central front were reported today to have captured the town of Yelnya, only 45 miles away, in their second big triumph in two days.

Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow, is one of the nazis' keystone defense centers and served as Adolf Hitler's headquarters in the ill-fated march on Moscow in 1941.

The capture of Yelna, announced in an order of the day by Premier Stalin, followed swiftly on the heels of the red army's recapture of Taganrog, the German southern anchor, and late dispatches said the Russians there were exterminating the trapped remnants of the nazi garrison after frustrating an attempt at a "Dunkerque" evacuation of the city.

Premier Stalin, in a second triumphant announcement, reported a second drive in the Sevsk sector had netted Glukhov, 42 miles northeast of the important railway junction of Konotop. He also disclosed this push had captured Rylsk, 44 miles north of Sumy.

Sweep Ahead In South.

Onrushing soviet columns were only 26 miles from Stalino, German army headquarters for the entire southern front, according to a BBC broadcast, and were sweeping far beyond Taganrog along the Sea of Azov in a race to cut off German forces on the Crimea peninsula and collapse the long and bitterly defended nazi bridgehead in the Caucasus.

Dispatches said red army cavalry and tanks were advancing steadily and imperiling the seaport of Mariupol, 75 miles west of Taganrog, and the inland industrial city of Stalino, 70 miles to the northwest.

Soviet vanguards, driving unchecked through nazi defenses, were reported already more than halfway to Mariupol.

All Russia celebrated the fall of Tanganrog, the sixth major German bastion seized by the red armies since July 5, and the cannon of Moscow thundered a 124-gun victory salute at the order of Premier Marshal Stalin.

Previously, the Russians had recaptured Orel, Belgorod, Karachev, Kharkov and Sevsk after crushing the opening assaults of Adolph Hitler's long-awaited summer offensive.

Flag In Every Home Object Of National Drive

. . . Air Base Leads Move

Lincoln air base inaugurated a drive Tuesday for "a flag in every home," being the first military installation to get behind the movement. Gen. Douglas MacArthur is honorary international commander of the "flag in every home" committee, and Sgt. Alvin C. York, hero of the first World war, is the national chairman.

A special act of congress authorizes the hanging of the American flag by one corner, surmounted by a golden eagle. This eagle may be hung on a nail, hook, or molding. The objective of the "flag in every home" committee is to have the American flag displayed in 25,000,000 American homes.

Brig. Gen. Early E. W. Duncan, commanding general of the Lincoln air base said upon accepting the chairmanship of the committee here, "The American flag is the world's greatest symbol of Liberty, a symbol of the American way of life. I sincerely hope that Americans throughout the nation will join us in this act of patriotism which the "flag in every home" committee has so generously fostered."

A spokesman for the National committee stated that these flags had been manufactured by the hundreds of thousands, and that they would shortly be on sale in civilian stores and post exchanges throughout the entire country.

Arkansas Governor Challenges Griswold On War Bond Drive

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 31—(AP)—Gov. Homer M. Adkins of Arkansas today called Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska on his offer to bet a $35 corn-fed hog that Nebraska could beat Arkansas in the third war bond drive opening Sept. 9.

Adkins said he would bet a white-faced calf against Griswold's pig that Arkansas' percentage showing in the drive would beat Nebraska's.

The Arkansas governor's wagering has not been so successful.

Lobbyists' Expenses Identical

. . . Two Report $2,500

Nebraska Power company lobbyists, E. B. McArdle and Frank N. Wolf, who testified before the legislative investigating committee at Omaha last week, that they had individual living expenses amounting to $2,500 during the five month 1943 legislative session, noted in briefer form the same statement on unitemized reports filed with Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

Both men wrote on their reports that they were appearing in the interest of any legislation favorable to the power company, and against any legislation opposing the company's interests.

Regular Salaries.

They further noted, in their practically identical statements, that they were in the regular and permanent employ of the company, were paid their regular salary, and assigned to legislative duties during the session.

"No expenses beyond their usual living expenses had been incurred," they stated.

Children Mourn As 'Jimmy the Chimp' Leaves

. . . Pet Simian to Tenn.

Jimmy the Chimp, the idol of youngsters and many adults, no longer is a resident of the Antelope park zoo which has been his home for more than five years. He was shipped to Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday, where he will be housed in Overton park.

Three years old when he came to the Antelope zoo, Jimmy cost the city $250, the price that was received for him from Meens Bros. & Ward of New York City, the company from which he was purchased.

Jimmy was added to the zoo under the administration of the late Chet Ager as superintendent, and his first trainer was Harold Q. Harris. As soon as he became responsive to handling and it was safe to do so, he was taken on public exhibitions, mostly to the hospitals, where he was a delight to the children, especially at Orthopedic hospital.

There he would be allowed to get on the beds with the youngsters. Always on these trips he was bedecked in a small uniform, wore a cap, and carried a pipe which was in his mouth most of the time. The only chimpanzee in this part of the country, people brought their children many miles to see him.

His sale to the New York company was a matter of necessity. What will be done with the money received for him has not been determined. It is likely, however, that it will be used to purchase either animals or birds that will be equally as welcome as Jimmy has been.

4-H FAIR PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

Plans are being completed Tuesday for Nebraska 4-H club's streamlined three-day activities at the state fair next week. All official entries have been made.

L. I. Frisbie, state 4-H leader at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, said the total entries may be slightly below 1942 but there will be a good show in all of the 4-H club divisions. In the past, the outstate youths have been here for eight full days. This year, the same activities are jammed into three full days—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Expect Good Showing.

"We are expecting a good show," said Frisbie, "because 4-H club members have and are taking a definite part in the war food production program. Our club building will show the public a sample of what has been accomplished during 1943."

The streamlined 4-H program calls for judging of exhibits of clothing, homemaking, baked foods, canning, agricultural engineering and crops on Saturday of this week. There will be no special Sunday program for the 4-H clubbers as in the past but the real activity gets underway Monday.

Billed for Monday are the health examinations; judging of swine, sheep and dairy cattle; judging of beef breeding heifers and team demonstrations. The 4-H baby beeves will be placed beginning Tuesday morning with grand champion named later in the day. The colt show comes at noon and in the afternoon the dress revue and song identification contests are scheduled.

Winners Appear Tuesday Night.

Lincoln people will have an opportunity to view the official dress revue and song contest winners Tuesday night in the 4-H club building. The girls will model their own dresses which they have made in 4-H and the winning song groups will be presented.

Wednesday will find hundreds of boys and girls here for their annual judging contests wherein state champions in all lines of endeavor will be named. The sale of beeves, sheep and hogs will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Samson Advocates Appointment of Power Commission

OMAHA, Aug. 31—(AP)—John Samson, Omaha attorney and president of the Nebraska young republicans, urged in a radio speech Monday night that a people's power commission be appointed under terms of LB 204, enacted at the last legislative session.

Samson said that if the city commissioners failed to appoint the commission, as provided in the bill, Omaha will face these four alterlnatives:

1. Repeal of LB 204 by a special legislative session.
2. Repeal of LB 204 by the next regular session of the legislature.
3. Loss of confidence in Omaha by "our outstate friends."
4. Expiration of the protecting contract, September, 1944, "after which without notice the holding company could sell without previous knowledge on our part, if at the time the holding company is still in existence."

Norfolk Minister Beaten By Three Unidentified Men

NORFOLK, Aug. 31—(AP)—Police are investigating the beating of an elderly Norfolk minister, the Rev. H. F. W. Schultz, about 70, who reported that three unidentified men struck him as he sat in his car Sunday afternoon.

Schulz told police he had pased a car carrying a Scotts Bluff county license, at the foot of a viaduct near the entrance to a park where a Christ Lutheran church men's picnic was being held.

The other car caught up with his and passed it. Three men from the vehicle came to Mr. Schulz' car, striking him and bending his glasses, he told police. Each time he attempted to turn on the ignition, the men switched it off, Schulz said.

Four other cars passed the scene, although he cried out for help, Schulz reported. He finally managed to drive into the park. He had recently accepted a call to the Lutheran church at Wakefield.

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR KIMBALL CAUSED BY BEE

KIMBALL, Aug. 31—(AP)—Mrs. E. H. Higgins, 65, Morton, Ill., was injured fatally when the car driven by her husband crashed into a culvert near here after it went out of control while occupants attempted to drive a bee from the vehicle.

Mrs. Higgins died yesterday afternoon, several hours after the crash. Mr. Higgins suffered minor injuries, while the third occupant, C. L. Jefferson of Covina, Calif., was uninjured.

Nebraska Dealers To Supply Service Men With Turkeys

Authorized Nebraska dealers in dressed turkeys that are designed to supply the armed forces overseas were named Tuesday by George H. Pettit, state food distribution administration supervisor. They are: Alliance Creamery Co., Armour & Co., Cudahy Packing Co., Fairmont Creamery Co., Falls City Creamery Co., Jerpe Commission Co., Inc., Omaha Cold Storage Co., Ravenna Creamery Co.

Pettit explained that the list of authorized dealers is not a final one, since new processing plants are being added to the lists daily. The firms named include those who have been authorized to process turkeys, or those who have been solicited by the government purchasing agency to process for armed forces' needs.

War time food order, FDO-71, covering turkey sales, which went into effect August 2, requires that there be no civilian consumption of turkeys until overseas armed forces' needs are satisfied, Pettit said.

The schedule for overseas military needs has been given as follows: Two million pounds needed between September 1 and 15, another two million pounds between September 15 and 30, and an additional six million pounds as soon thereafter as possible.

"Producers of turkeys are urged to get in touch with their nearest processors, if they have early season turkeys," Pettit explained. Under the requirements of FDO-71, they may ask processors to show their evidence of authority for processing.

BEATRICE PRIEST RECEIVES HONOR

BEATRICE, Aug. 31—At an impressive ceremony in St. Joseph's Catholic church Tuesday morning, Rt. Rev. Ferdinand Mock, the church pastor, was invested as monsignor. About 60 priests from eastern Nebraska were in attendance.

Dr. John G. Krim of this city introduced the speakers. They were Rev. Ross McCown of the First Presbyterian church, Beatrice; District Judge C. B. Ellis of this city, and Federal District Judge John W. Delehant, Lincoln.

Many Catholics from this city and surrounding towns were present to witness the ceremony.

Butler Impresses Chileans During His Recent Visit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—The office of Senator Butler (R-Neb) made public today a letter from Secretary of State Hull in which the cabinet member quoted Claude G. Bowers, American ambassador to Chile, as advising that Butler had made "an excellent impression" during his recent visit in Chile.

Hull said in his letter that Bowers made this comment in forwarding a set of clippings from Chilean newspapers "regarding the event."

"'Senator Butler made an excellent impression here in his contacts with Chileans, in his speeches before the Chilean senate, and in the remarks made during a press conference arranged for him by the embassy.

"'I think particularly praiseworthy was his statement, made frequently in conversation and in his press conference, that possible change in the administration as a result of future elections would not alter the fundamental policy of the United States of co-operation with South America.'"

Grand Island Lad Hit By Army Truck Is Out Of Danger

GRAND ISLAND, Aug. 31—(AP) — Bobby Robertson, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robertson, jr., injured seriously when he was hit by an army truck last Friday, was reported out of danger today although the attending physician expressed the belief the youngster has a skull fracture.

He was taken to a hospital by a bus from the air base. Bob Hagman, driver, and Cpl. Jimmy Juoti, a passenger, said they saw the boy hurled into a ditch by an army truck that apparently struck him as it passed another vehicle.

Signers Must Be Verified, Says Butler

OMAHA, Aug. 31 — (AP) — Mayor Dan Butler told approximately 30 persons, many employes and officials of the Nebraska Power company, who crowded the city council chambers today that action on petitions forbidding the council to create the people's power commission under LB 204 would not come before the council until verification of names is completed.

The petitions, filed by Chairman Frank Heinisch of the Omaha On Guard committee, are being checked in the election commissioner's office, Butler said.

The petitions call for an ordinance providing that the council shall not approve appointment of a commission until purchase or condemnation of the Nebraska Power company "shall have been authorized by the qualified electors x x x at a general election or special city election called for that purpose."

Full Hearing Probable.

Mayor Butler said that notice will be given to the public and an opportunity for full hearing will be afforded before the council acts on any resolution to put the provisions of LB 204 creating a commission into effect.

He added that the council will await the return of Commissioner Walter Korisko from vacation before considering action on LB 204. He is expected before next Tuesday's council meeting.

The bill, passed at the last session of the legislature provides for appointment of a people's power commission to take steps to acquire the Nebraska Power company.

Training For War In Peace Asked By May

...U. S. Needs 'Big Stick'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military committee called for compulsory military training in peacetime today with the assertion that Uncle Sam should "carry a big stick all the time just in case any of the other big stick boys get ideas."

The Kentuckian said he would seek legislation to require every ablebodied male between 17 and 21 to take a full year of training, followed up by periodic one-month refresher courses.

Train Million A Year.

"This would mean," he explained in an interview, "that we would train about 1,000,000 youths every year, preferably as soon as they leave high school. The training would last an entire year and during that time the trainee would be given an opportunity to keep up with his studies so he could enter college without being rusty after his year is up."

Under this program, he said, a well-trained and competent reserve force of approximately 10,000,00 young men could be built up in from 10 to 15 years.

With such a reserve force, May said, the size of the regular, or standing, army could be held to approximately 500,000 men.

From where I sit....

by Joe Marsh

Bill Burry was reflecting back on the last war and what the boys used to do when they got a furlough.

"We weren't a hard-drinking bunch particularly, but that was in Prohibition," said Bill, "and forbidden fruit always seems worth goin' after. We'd hunt up a bootlegger, which was easy, and buy a bottle.

"So, instead of a beer or two, well—I guess we generally drank too much! . . . wonder what the boys are doing this time?"

I got out the official report the Office of War Information made and read him this: "The fact that there is vastly less drinking among soldiers in this war may stem in part from the sale of beer in camps."

From where I sit, it certainly doesn't look as if we had to worry about our boys. We learned our lesson in the last war, and I'm glad to see we're on the right track now.

Air Base Bus Routing Still Under Protest

... Petition Returned

Returned to the council Monday without recommendation, was a petition by 38 business and professional men in the vicinity of Tenth and O streets, asking that air base busses be ordered to stop at N, O, and P streets.

In returning the petition to the council Cobe S. Venner, director of public welfare and safety, stated that the request raises a question of policy which the council must work out. There is nothing to recommend, he added, until the possibility of stops at Tenth and New Hampshire streets, and the routing of busses to the base is settled.

Use Tenth Street.

For several months the busses having been going to the base over North Tenth street, instead of using the West O routing which had been designated with the building of a modern highway to the army reservation.

Recently the council directed Venner to seek an explanation from the Lincoln City Lines, Inc., as to why the busses are not conforming to the regulations requiring that the busses enter and leave the city over O street. At the same time City Clerk Berg was directed to notify the company that stops are required at N, O, and P street.

Reporting Monday, Berg said he notified officials but has not had any declaration of intentions. Venner received no reply to his request for information, he said.

Contract Awarded.

The council awarded Magee's the contract to supply police with uniforms, on that firm's bid of $742.50, and promise of October 15 delivery. Ben Simon and Sons bid $741.15 on a December 1 delivery. A third offer was filed by Fecheimer Bros. Co., Cincinnati, O., their price being $744.35 on October 15 delivery.

Raymond H. Walker was awarded a contract to audit the records of the water and light departments and Muny court for $665. Van Boskirk-Remington & Associates will receive $625 to audit the city treasurer's and auditor's accounts, and the municipal coal and gasoline records.

Both audits will cover the fiscal year ending August 31, 1943.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterbury

Chapter 13.

During the next several hours, Bette's amazement continued to grow. So thoroughly inconsistent with the old woman's stolid silence, the girl's typically Indian garb, was the Porter hospitality.

Bette, when supper was ready, had visions of unsavory dried fish, of some strange, unpalatable mess.

To her amazement, the trout, served with a kind of wild rice was excellent. And there was a fine California burgundy on the table served in exquisite, thin-stemmed glassware. Bette had the impulse to rub her eyes.

During the meal, served entirely by Paul's sister and entirely in silence, Paul himself conducted the conversation. He spoke knowingly and well of world conditions, of leading American figures, finally of comparative excellences of California and French wines. She might have enjoyed the discussion at some smart banquet back home, she realized. And all this in the mountain fastness of a remote Alaskan island. Still, she assured herself, she was ont dreaming.

Throughout the entire evening, her hosts' courtesy was unflagging. Deaf to her protests, they insisted she occupy the cabin's single bedroom although she knew it meant the two women would sleep on the piles of skin drawn close to the fireplace.

This tiny rough-walled room, she discovered, was furnished conventionally as any summer cabin. A rough-hewn bedstead, a hand-made chest, two raw-hide chairs, a beautiful hand-woven Indian rug on the floor.

Someday, she thought later as she tried to relax taut nerves and invite sleep, she'd like to know more about the strange Porters.

It was bright daylight when she awoke. She lay for several minutes trying to think where she was, what had happened. As memory of yesterday's strange experience flooded back, she leaped from bed, scrambled into her clothes. She felt for her little pistol.

But—and she searched again, unbeleving, — the pistol was gone.

She couldn't have lost it on the way. Her thoughts winged back over every step of the trail. She remembered having it when she saw the grizzly. Suddenly, she remembered having it when she went to bed the night before. She'd even considered putting it under her pillow, she recalled now, and had discarded the idea lest she forget to take the gun again in the morning.

Slowly, she considered the implications. Not lost, not mislaid, it must have been stolen. But by whom? As she lay asleep? But why would anyone want the gun? Unless perhaps the girl had simply taken a fancy to it.

No. Whoever had taken that gun, had wanted her unarmed. That was obvious. Bette sat down suddenly on the edge of the bed, her knees trembling with new fright. What did it all mean?

Gathering courage, she finally achieved a smile, pushed open the door to the cabin's main living room. Paul Porter looked up from a rifle he was cleaning, smiled courteously.

"Good morning, Miss Stuart. Did you sleep well?"

Bette returned the smile. "So well that I am afraid I have kept you waiting. Tell me, how long do you think it will take us to reach Captain MacQuaid?"

His eyes met hers steadily. "Not long. Your breakfast is ready."

"More than an hour or so?" she persisted.

Again that serene, smiling courtesy. "Not very long. I assure you. Please, won't you sit down."

Bette slipped into the chair at the table. "But you see I must be back at the Post today. Otherwise they will be—" she hesitated, decided against making her reason sound more than casual, "— short-handed. Perhaps, if you could take the message to him that—"

But again, that baffling, quiet assurance. "It is not far, I assure you."

As if she were hemmed on all sides by impenetrable but unseen barriers, Bette tried persistently for then ext half-hour to find her way out. But even mention of the 'lost' pistol only confused her more.

"I know I had it when I arrived last evening," she said and tried to see if any change came over the stolid Ileana's face as she spoke. "I must have mislaid it somewhere. Do you happen to have seen it?"

The girl went on with her basket-weaving impassively. Paul answered evenly.

"Why, no, I am sorry. What a shame to have lost it."

For a brief instant, Bette considered laying the cards on the table, demanding an explanation. demanding guidance back to the Post. Then better judgment overtook her. Anger would avail her nothing now. Her best chance lay in apparent smiling friendliness.

Not that she believed in that "friendliness" any longer, she told herself later as she fololwed Paul along a faint trail. His tireless courtesy, his mother's silent but insistent hospitality, even the sister's silence had not been hostile—Still, Bette was uneasy. Instinctively, she sensed all was not as it seemed.

As the sun mounted and the morning wore on, she grew more and more certain that she would not find Scott MacQuaid 'very soon' or, perhaps, ever!

But when she questioned Porter, she got an invariable answer.

"But a little farther, Miss Stuart. Have patience."

At noon, he produced a small packet of food, built a fire, cooked bacon and beans over the open flame. Bette forced the food past the growing lump in her throat, realizing she must keep up her strength, although her courage failed her steadily, hour by hour.

They plodded on.

When the afternoon shadows grew longer the trail led over a rise, around the breast of a steep slope. She looked out into a mountain valley and saw, directly across from her, the cabin they had left this morning. They had walked, she realized, her emotions dulled by fatigue, completely around the tiny valley.

Porter faced her then, an apalogy in his shrug, in his grave smile. "I am sorry, Miss Stuart. I had thought to find Captain MacQuaid where I saw him only yesterday encamped. But he had gone. Rather than frighten you, I have brought you back here."

He lied. Bette knew that intuitively. Still, there was nothing she could do now save follow him toward that cabin and its strange occupants.

100,000 Fish Caught At Johnson Reservoir

One of the most prolific sources of the state game commission's "fish market" has been the Johnson reservoir outside of Lexington, Paul S. Gilbert, secretary of the state commission, said Monday. Over 100,000 fish have been taken from the reservoir since the commission opened its markets at Lincoln, Omaha and North Platte.

Smaller Towns Play Hosts To 300 Soldiers

... Bennet Sets Pace

More than 300 men stationed at the army air base were guests Sunday of people living in small towns near Lincoln, and of Lincoln organizations, and individuals. In almost every instance the soldiers spent virtually the entire day with their hosts; some in town, and others at farm homes.

The "Excellence" flag for the day went to the little town of Bennet, in the eastern part of Lancaster county. An affair planned by Mrs. Norman E. Dillworth in honor of her son, Staff Sergeant Norman E. Dillworth who is stationed in the Aleutians, 86 soldiers were entertained.

Give Transportation.

Residents of the community came to the base to get the men, and took them to Bennet. There they were taken to homes, both in the town and farming community. Some families organizezd picnic groups, and others entertained in their homes.

In the evening there was a community campfire and song fest, to which the soldiers made a large contribution to the "great pleasure" of the hosts.

Seward was a strong competitor for honors when members of the Methodist church came and escorted 40 to that county seat for church service, and entertainment in the homes. Members of the Emerald Methodist church entertained 15, and 10 others were guests of the same denomination at Beaver Crossing, where Chaplain E. B. McAllister was the speaker at the morning services.

Lodges Active.

In Lincoln fraternal societies were active, as was First Plymouth church where 70 uniformed men attended vesper services, and an informal "at home" in the church parlors.

The fraternal organizations' affairs differed. Charity Rebekah lodge No. 2 had 14 for an outdoor breakfast. Vine camp of the Royal Neighbors had 25 for a picnic at Antelope park, and Columbia chapter, O. E. S., had a group for a picnic at Bethany park.

Many groups of eight soldiers were taken to homes of individuals and spent the day. Mrs. Mary Fiske, Mrs. Lena Spink, and Mrs. Donald Miller and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Buehler had their regular weekly picnics for 16 men.

Emmanuel Methodist church had a group for supper, which was a farewell for Mrs. Grace Carter, mother of Corp. Dwayne Carter, who was present. The affair also was a farewell for Miss Helen Pierce who has been ordered to report for training as a SPAR, she having enlisted in the Marines.

—1,200 MERCHANT SHIPS—

Yanks Give Answer To Axis Taunts

... Expect to Better '43 Goal

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 31 — (AP) — Shipbuilders have answered "axis taunts of America's weakness" by producing "more than 1,200 merchant vessels of approximately 12,200,000 deadweight tons so far this year," Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, U. S. maritime commission chairman, declared today.

"In the remaining four months of this year," Land said during launching ceremonies here, "we shall achieve our goal of about 19,000,000 deadweight tons by holding our present pace of production. We expect to better it. We expect you to make a contribution to that betterment, by even greater effort," he told the thousands of men and women workers.

Two Liberty ships, the William DeWitt Hyde and the Cyrus H. K. Curtis, were launched a few minutes before Land presented the maritime "M" pennant to the huge New England Shipbuilding Corp., and a third, the Anna Howard Shaw, slipped into the water shortly afterward.

NEW CAPTAIN HAS HELD 15 RATINGS SINCE ENLISTMENT

First Lieutenant Willard E. Morgan, of the Lincoln Aeronautical Institute was recently promoted to the rank of captain, thereby etsablishing what is believed to be a record. He now has held fifteen ranks in the army, this being his fourteenth promotion.

Now executive officer of the L. A. I., a section of tht Lincoln air base, Capt. Morgan enlisted in the army at Chanute Field, Ill. Jan. 12, 1929 as a private. Before the army discontinued its specialist ratings to privates a year and a half ago, Capt. Morgan worked his way up holding each specialist rating in order.

After having served at Langley Field, Va. and France Field, Panama Canal Zone, Capt. Morgan was transferred to the Lincoln air base from Chanute Field on June thirteenth as a master sergeant. On June 20 he was appointed a First Lieutenant.

The ranks Capt. Morgan has held are private, private specialist 6th class, private specialist 5th class, private specialist 4th class, private first class 4th class, private first class 3rd class. private first class 2nd class, corporal, sergeant, staff sergeant, first sergeant, tech. sergeant, master sergeant, first lieutenant and captain.

Capt. and Mrs. Morgan are now living in Lincoln.

Glen McKay's Death In Crash 'Unavoidable'

... Verdict of Jury

A verdict of "unavoidable accident" was returned by the coroner's jury Monday evening into the death of Glen Allen McKay, 6, of Alvo who was killed instantly last Thursday in a car-ice truck collision here. Announcement of the verdict was made by Deputy Sheriff Merle Karnopp.

Deputy County Attorney Farley Young conducted the inquest at which Mrs. David McKay, mother of Glen, testified to having been the driver of the car in which her son was riding. Driver of the other vehicle, an ice truck belonging to the W. T. Good Ice company, was Earl Averman, 23, 5400 Kearney street.

The testimony presented showed that the accident occurred at the intersection of Eighty-fifth and Leighton streets about five p. m., August 26, and that neither driver was at fault.

Glen's father, David McKay, and a brother, Roger 4, were also in the car at the time of the accident. Mr. McKay received several severe injuries while Mrs. McKay and Roger were treated for minor cuts and bruises. Mr. Averman was treated at his home for a broken nose and bruises.

The jury was composed of F. E. Milker, Ambrose Alexander, George Shafer, Carl D. Vanderslice, Court Ankeny and Buck Taylor.

LT. PAUL B. MEANS NAMED TO STAFF OF ADMIRAL KING

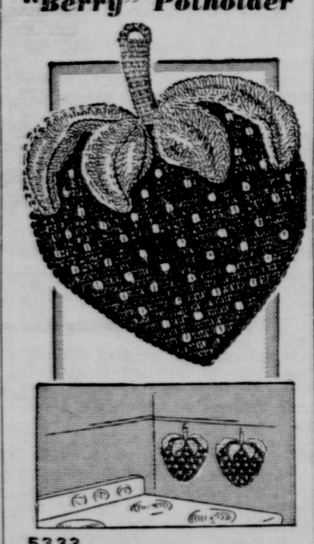

Appointment to the staff of Admiral King, highest navy commander, recently came to Lieut. Paul B. Means, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Means, 4812 Adams street.

Lieut. Means, former student at the University of Nebraska, is a Yale graduate, Rhodes scholar from Nebraska, and has received a Ph.D. from Columbia university.

With 15 years experience in Malaysia and the islands of the South Pacific as writer, editor and teacher, he left his position as professor of religions at the University of Oregon to enlist in the navy six months ago.

When the nazi party was coming to power, Lieut. Means was studying in Germany, but was obliged to leave. He is the author of a religious book of the month, "Things That Are Caesar's."

Native Gets An Answer

Sometime ago Native wrote a letter more or less in reply to Mildred and numerous other contributors whose remarks were somewhat anti-Lincoln. Native asked for an answer to her letter —Mildred readily responds—

Dear Minerva:

Native has asked for an answer to her letter of August 5. Here it is. Listen to this citation from the next to the last paragraph of her letter: "Most of the soldiers from the air base to whom I have talked dislike Lincoln not because they don't have anything to do, but because they don't get enough time off to do it." That is about the strangest statement I ever read and I can not get the point of view of a man who is so biased as to dislike a town because his superior officer would not permit him to visit it very often. That is not the town's fault; I should think he would dislike the officer who restricted him. I believe Native made that up. It is about in line with some of her other remarks such as her suggestion that I look at the help wanted columns of the newspapers and I will see that a great demand for work exists here. I have done that very thing time and again and while I have noted there has been a slight increase in the demand for workers stimulated by the war it has nearly all been for people in the trades. If Native will look carefully she will find that many of the advertisements call for people to work at some distant point; often two thousand miles away. A contractor in Vancouver, Wash., a town about eight miles from Portland, Oregon, has been a fairly frequent advertiser and quite recently there was an advertisement for workers on a project near Spokane, Washington. Very little of the work offered has been for situations here in Lincoln and almost no demand seems to exist here for office people. There has been a mild demand here for people in the low salaried brackets: dishwashers, waitresses, soda squirts, etc. Not long ago local newspapers carried an article saying Nebraska has lost over three hundred thousand people within the last year or so, some of whom were men entering the various branches of the service but mostly workers lured to other places by higher wages. Surely advertisements that "lure" people to distant points to work are not benefiting Lincoln or the state either one because they are spending their earnings somewhere else.

Native says the people of Lincoln "know what they want." Looks like about all some of them want is the opportunity to legislate their personal religious notions upon everybody else. She also says she has never noticed any lack of places to go here and she wants to know what I want "that can not be found in Lincoln" and she would "appreciate knowing just what all these people who are so destitute for something to do would pick out to do."

Here is a list of things needed here and that abound in many cities not half as big as Lincoln and that we should have here and would have if a passel of old meddlers were not too selfish to want anyone to enjoy life and their town to prosper: Pin the list up on your wall and look at it now and then to refresh your memory.

1. First of all we need good restaurants. I suppose one reason nobody ever opened up a nice eating place here is because he feared he would go broke in a place filled with dull, stupid, plodding, old homebody women who would rather slave and sweat all day Sunday in their kitchens than go to a beautiful cafe and get a well cooked and attractively served meal and it is also quite likely that their cheap, selfish and stingy, small-town business men husbands are too penny-pinching to take their wives out to a first class restaurant Sundays.

2. We need an up-to-date delicatessan store here where working people often too busy or too tired to bother with meals can purchase a wide variety of prepared foods in quart, pint and half pint containers and take them home, the salads packed in dry ice to keep them cold and the hot foods in vacuum containers so they will retain their heat such as at la Cafe Henrecci in Chicago and the Confiserie Patisserie in New York City which are both places where people actually know how to live. Then if one has laid in a proper supply of paper tablecloths, napkins and cardboard dishes and cups, all the dishwashing they need do is a few knives, forks and spoons; all the rest can be discarded and thrown in the ash can after the meal.

3. We need first class dance halls right here in town—not miles out in the country where proper fire protection and supervision does not exist.

4. There should be pool and billiard halls of the refined type like they have in San Francisco where as many ladies go in and play as men.

5. There should be fine roller skating rinks and gorgeous ice skating rinks something like the beautiful Frozen Forrest at the New York World's Fair.

6. We should have shoe shining parlors open all day Sunday.

7. We ought to have night clubs and cabarets and roof gardens.

8. And last but not least: about ten times as many taxis on the streets as we have. Friends tell me there are six thousand taxis in Washington and that one can ride about two miles for twenty cents.

I could mention plenty of other needs but the above should be sufficient to show some of the sleepy-heads how many highly desirable things we go without here that many other places enjoy.

MILDRED.

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., Aug. 31 —(AP)—The man on the flying trapeze has nothing on John Williams.

Williams was driving his car on Lexington avenue here when it jumped a curb, struck and severed a telephone pole, knocked down several trees, overturned then righted itself and finally bounced up onto an apartment house porch.

When onlookers arrived on the scene they found Williams still in the driver's seat, gripping the steering wheel—unhurt.

Ciano's Flight Makes Italian People Angry

... Swiss Report Says

AT THE SWISS - ITALIAN FRONTIER, Aug. 30—(AP)—The reported flight of Count Galeazzo Ciano, former Italian foreign minister and son-in-law of Benito Mussolini, angered today the Italian people who considered him one of those most responsible for the fascist regime.

Chiasso dispatch to the Swiss Telegraphic Agency said Italians had assumed that Ciano and his family were heavily guarded and therefore were surprised to learn he had been able to evade surveillance.

(A broadcast of the German underground radio station, Atlantik, was recorded in London as saying Ciano had reached Munich after fleeing from Rome.

(The German radio said yesterday the former fascist leader, his wife and children had eluded the police around his home and escaped.

The Swish Telegraph Agency dispatch estimated the fortune Ciano built under fascism at many millions of dollars.)

New Job For Berge

Wendell Berge will not be treading unfamiliar paths when he takes over complete responsibility for the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice in Washington.

Attorney General Biddle's own words in connection with Mr. Berge's transfer from the head of the criminal division of the attorney general's office to the anti-trust branch reflects the success Mr. Berge attained in previous important cases brought by the government under the anti-trust laws.

"He is especially qualified to direct vigorous wartime prosecution of the anti-trust laws," Mr. Biddle said.

The record amply supports the attorney general's expression of confidence. Mr. Berge appeared as counsel for the government in a number of cases and handled them with such conspicuous success that the government's claims were sustained in all particulars.

As a native-born Nebraskan, the son of a prominent Nebraska lawyer, the people of this state have watched with pride and pleasure the steady advance of Mr. Berge in the Department of Justice in Washington. He was associated with Thurman Arnold. With the outbreak of war, it fell to his lot to conduct a number of the most important cases brought by the government in wartime matters involving criminal prosecution. His latest assignment is a reflection of the glowing record he has made since entering public service.

Without A Shot

Hitler rolled against all boundaries of Denmark in 1940 without firing a single shot, to take possession of the country as a part of his European campaign.

The Danes were helpless.

Peaceful, sturdy, industrious, their tiny country was an innocent victim of aggression and there was nothing which the Danish people could do about it.

The full effect in a military sense of Hitler's occupation of Denmark never received the attention it deserved. It hit John Bull a crushing blow in the stomach. The people of the British Isles got a fourth of their pork, a considerable amount of their beef, and an enormous quantity of dairy products from Denmark. More than 200,000,000 pounds of butter annually appeared on British tables from Denmark's dairy herds. A third of the eggs on the tables of the British people came from Denmark.

Hitler's hands it was worth an entire fleet of submarines in a campaign to starve the British people.

Now, the spirit of revolt has spread wholesale among the Danes. For the first time they can see daylight.

Their dairy herds are gone.

Whatever happens in the ultimate liberation of Denmark, the Dane starts all over again from the bottom to rebuild his life into the same sturdy outlines that characterized it for more than a century.

Reduced to Fourths

It was revealed Friday of last week that allied air raids upon Germany and Italy have cut axis steel production about 25 per cent in the period of a year.

It suggests that Hitler's number is up. At the peak of production the axis powers could not hope to match the steel plants of the United States, overlooking both Britain and Russia. A year ago Germany had facilities to turn out 25,000,000 tons of steel annually. It has been cut to 60 per cent of what it was by raids upon the steel centers of the "Greater Reich." Italy, had an annual production of 3,000,000 tons, now her crippled industries produce a tenth of that amount.

Only Japan can boast of increased production.

National Commitments

Representative Joe Martin of Massachusetts, minority leader in the national house, is a most charming fellow in many ways, and is at the same time a most adroit politician. That is why he is minority leader. He knows how to take advantage of any situation that may present itself, and to create such situations should none arise. Thus, he is now insisting that members of congress should have been permitted to sit in at the Quebec conference on matters dealing with the post-war era, claiming that we are now learning that important commitments are being made by the executive department with other nations.

No one knows better than Joe Martin that the executive department can in no manner commit this government to any post-war action. All that it can do is to use its influence to make effective such plans as may have been agreed upon as best by the heads of the allied nations. The matter is then in the hands of the senate; and everybody knows what the senate did to such executive plans at the close of the last war.

And it would have been just the same had every member of Mr. Martin's house of representatives been sitting in at the Quebec meeting. There might have been an agreement—which is doubtful—as to what should be attempted when the time should arrive, but that is all. The president cannot commit this nation, nor can the congress. It requires joint action, which is not at all necessary in playing politics.

Three Great Errors

It has been said that the democratic way is the inefficient way.

Political freedom entails incompetence, men have declared over and over again, and seemingly with abundant evidence on hand to fortify their claims, they proceed to believe that democratic institutions are expensive luxuries for a world, which must get along.

It isn't so.

There has come in the last 12 months the acid test of the efficiency of absolute government, the absolute government of dictatorship, arrayed against the governments which still encourage and permit the freedom of men in all their dignity as human beings.

This war may be worth the frightful price it has cost in the run of time and in the truth it has established.

One of the distinguished military writers, Major Paul C. Raborg, who some years ago wrote a book on "Mechanized Might," puts it this way:

"The winning of this war recorded in history as the greatest victory ever attained. The democracies entered the present conflict unprepared against the three greatest war machines ever created . . . Great Britain had only the largest navy in the world. The French army was supposed to be the biggest and best, but it wasn't. The United States on the sidelines had a good one-ocean navy but otherwise was unprepared . . . Hitler and has barbaric war machine is licked. Corporal Hitler may collapse tomorrow; he may fight for a year. The allies are ready and will strike devastating all-out blows against our greatest and most dangerous enemy, Japan. That war will be bloody, without quarter, and may be long drawn out, but the Japanese war machine will be exterminated."

It isn't democracy alone that is guilty of error. Hitler's bloody career, even in the pinnacle of his highest success, at a time when he had achieved what no other man in modern history had accomplished by military force, was splotched with three errors now directly contributing to his ultimate defeat.

His first was the failure to follow up the collapse of France by immediate attack upon the British Isles. An immediate attack upon the British Isles would have caught the British helpless, without even the barest equipment to resist, and a quick and easy prey to Hitler's powerful armies.

His second mistake came in his failure to throw the Japanese under Hirohito against Pearl Harbor at the time France collapsed. In waiting that 18 months until December, 1941, again the supermen and super war machine tossed away any chance of completion of his program of world conquest.

His third great error was committed on June 22, 1941, when he tackled the shaggy Russian bear; punished it unmercifully for two years, but in the end made it one of the strongest, if not the strongest, military power in the world.

On the face of the record who says democratic government, as opposed to absolute government, "blunders through"?

Who says that democratic government is incompetent, and inefficient?

The men slowly being driven into the corner said it—Hitler and Mussolini said it time and time again; clearly believed it themselves; and succeeded not only in convincing their own people, but the millions of the peoples of Europe; and peoples scattered throughout the democracies themselves that absolute government was the most efficient creation crowning the wisdom of the human mind.

It isn't so.

This war has demonstrated that all of the plotting and planning, all of the slavery of the axis millions; all of the enforced imposition upon the will of the helpless nations could not crush decency and love of freedom that takes root in human minds.

Hull and Pearson

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, stirred to anger, is a man of mighty wrath.

His indignation inspired by Columnist Pearson's charge that he and associates in the State department desire to see Russia 'bled white' can be fully understood. At a time relations with Russia are matter of concern to all Americans, it seems unforgivable that Secretary Hull should be put to the necessity of emphatic denial.

Perhaps, Mr. Pearson feels assured and secure upon Russia. If he does, then he is lonely in this country, becadse millions, sympathetic and friendly to Russia, nevertheless, cannot understand why Stalin refuses to give the American people credit for saving Russia from collapse. Uncle Sam did save the Russians. There is not any evidence of any worthy character to suggest that Russia could have stood alone without the help of lend-lease.

Mr. Pearson, and millions of other Americans, are not in a position to know the facts.

Whatever sources of information he may have, they cannot be complete and full.

Novel Experience

It is quite probable that restrictions upon the use of automobiles may bring to many young people an entirely new experience—riding on railroad trains. A generation or so ago the person, who had not ridden on a train, was regarded as a "yap." He lived in the country and had never been farther from home than the county seat, to which he had ridden in a farm wagon. He was an object of derision, for "he was never on a train in his life."

The automobile has changed all that, and though the statement may astonish some people, it is an actual fact that there are boys and girls right here in Lincoln, and of course in other cities and towns, who are seventeen years old or older and have never had a train ride. This does not mean that they have not been places, for some of them have made journeys of hundreds of miles. But they have gone in motor cars, and would scarcely know what to do on a sleeping car or at a terminal in a large city. Perhaps during the present emergency they will pick up some experience that everyone should have.

OFF THE RECORD

by—ED REED

"You're lucky—It says you can deduct unusual medical expenses!"

DIET AND HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "The Human Body"

Exercise Sprained Ankle

I see an article from a medical officer in the armed forces on the treatment of ankle sprains, which advocates immediate activity and return to duty. A sound doctrine.

It takes me back over thirty years to the time when I was a young assistant to a famous surgeon, Dr. J. F. Binnie. He taught me this then revolutionary doctrine, which was originated by the celebrated orthopedic surgeon of Liverpool, Mr. Robert Jones. In fact, I was myself one of the first patients I tried the method on.

Dr. Binnie strapped up my sprained ankle and ordered me to go out and play a few sets of tennis. Dire were the predictions of the dowagers as to what was going to happen to me. Some of them called up my family and predicted life-long crippling. I would probably use a crutch the rest of my life. But I survived and, while I don't attempt tennis any longer, I do a mean nine holes of golf on that ankle.

Old-Fashioned Methods

Other surgeons used to put a sprained ankle up in a plaster cast, and not allow the victim to use it for six weeks. There used to be a saying—"A sprain is worse than two fractures." What was worse was the treatment. When the ankle got out of the cast it was so stiff that it took six weeks to get it limbered up.

They have one new wrinkle in treatment which is to inject the tissues around the sprain with a local anesthetic—procaine hydrochloride. This stops pain immediately and even after the effects of it wear off, the pain seldom returns.

Immediately after the procaine injection the men in service were sent back to routine duty, which I presume includes at least some marching and hardly showed any effect of the strain thereafter.

Those who were put to bed with a hot water bag or ice cap on the ankle even for a few hours were often disabled for a period of a few days to several weeks. You must get up and begin to move your sprained ankle around immediately.

Adhesive Basket Bandage

They are even getting so they regard the old adhesive tape basket bandage with suspicion. Those men who were taped and told to bear no weight on the leg for several days were a long time getting better. One was disabled eight weeks.

However, I am still for the adhesive basket weave strapping bandage. It gives a kind of massage to the joint as it moves and helps to absorb the exudate.

But there is no doubt that the local anesthetic injection, the adhesive strapping, and immediate activity is the really successful treatment of ankle sprains.

Why the immediate activity should work so well is debatable. It is supposed the improved circulation, the more active exchange of tissue products promotes healing. But whatever the reason, the old bugaboo that a sprain is worse than a fracture is laid forever provided treatment that includes immediate activity is prescribed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. V.: I was rejected by army physicians for what is called essential hypertension. What does this mean? I feel alright. Do you think they will call me later?

Answer: Essential hypertension is the form of high blood pressure that appears in younger people. It often produces no symptoms. I do not believe the army will ever accept you for active duty.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of geenral interest only, and then only through his column.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Peter Compares Blessings

That which you call a blessing I Might find no use for, should I try —Peter Rabbit.

Peter is quite right about that. Your blessings may be no blessings at all to me. In fact they may be the reverse. It is just as true that my blessings may be anything but blessing to you. There are two kinds of blessings, personal and general. Only in the latter may all share equally.

Peter had a new excuse for leaving the Old Briar-patch. How wonderful it is that we can always find an excuse for doing the thing we want to do. Peter dearly loves to roam and Mrs. Peter hasn't yet found a way to break him of the habit. His excuse this time was to compare his blessings with the blessings some of his neighbors enjoyed.

His first call was on Johnny Chuck. Johnny was sitting on his doorstep enjoying a sunbath. "You look as if you have something on your mind, Peter. What is it?" said he.

"Have you counted your blessings?" asked Peter.

"No, I never have," replied Johnny Chuck. "Why should I?"

"Grandfather Frog says every one should. He says that until they do most folks don't know what a lot of them they have, and some think they haven't any. They would be surprised if they just started in to count them."

"Johnny Chuck has one blessing that you haven't, Peter Rabbit," said Bumble Bee, buzzing about fussily in some clover close to Johnny's doorstep.

"What is that?" demanded Peter.

"Contentment," replied Bumble Bee. "He is satisfied to stay at home, or close to it, most of the time, and not go wandering about the way you do."

"He doesn't see as much as I do," retorted Peter.

"And you get into a lot more trouble than I do," asserted Johnny Chuck. Peter had to admit that this was true.

"Bz-z-z-z! Contentment is one of the greatest blessings in the world," said Bumble Bee. And this also was true.

"I can sleep all winter. I guess you would call that a blessing," said Johnny Chuck.

"I wouldn't," declared Peter promptly. "I can't sleep all winter, but I wouldn't if I could. No sir, I wouldn't if I could. I don't call that a blessing.

"I can and do sleep in comfort, knowing nothing of cold or hunger or storms or being hunted by hungry enemies. Yes, sir, I call that one of my greatest blessings," said Johnny Chuck. "Another," he continued, "is the way I can store fat under my skin. Do you know any one who can get fatter than I can in so short a time?"

Peter admitted that he didn't. "I don't call that a blessing either," he added. "You can't really run why you get that way. You can't much more than waddle. As for me, I think it a blessing that I can't get fat. Why, if I got as fat as you do I couldn't run or jump or dodge, and I would be caught by Reddy Fox or some other hungry person just as sure as my ears are long."

"Have you ever counted your blessings?" asked Peter

"Not if you stayed at home, said Johnny Chuck drily.

"Bz-z-z-z," said Bumble Bee. "I've noticed that when one person has a blessing that another hasn't and never can have, the latter seldom can see that it is a blessing at all. I guess it is a good thing that it is so. If all had just the same blessings they might prove not to be blessings at all. It would be a funny world with everybody wanting to have and do the same things. Yes, sir, it would be a funny world. I don't believe I would like it."

I don't think I would either. Do you think you would?

Colin Kelly, Sergeant Lie Together In Clerk Field, Philippines, Grave

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—(INS)—Capt. Colin Kelly and Sgt. William J. Delehanty of Brooklyn, who was at the controls of their bomber when they asnk the Jap battleship "Haruna," lie side by side in a hastily dug grave at Clark Field, in the Philippines.

This was discovered today by Mrs. Marion Wick Kelly, Capt. Kelly's widow, who now lives in Beverly Hills, Cal., with her 3-year-old son, Colin, jr.

In a story in the Brooklyn Catholic publication, "The Tablet," Mrs. Kelly revealed that Capt. Kelly and Sgt. Delehanty were buried by a Catholic chaplain and Capt. William McDonald, while Jap planes bombed them overhead.

Capt. Kelly was not a Catholic. Sgt. Delehanty, who was 38, was brought up in St. Paul's parish, Brooklyn.

Retribution

Lincoln, Neb.

How peacefully they slept
Those supermen and women of Berlin
While high above, winged monsters
Smiled down a "death's head grin."
Over Hitler's boasted fortress Berlin. The city of his might Soon to be sent asunder
Ere the passing of the night.

The super-sentry of the watch,
Goosestepping his lonely beat,
Dreaming of loot, and conquered lands,
The allies in retreat.
Reminiscences of battles won,
Of ravaged women, murdered babes
He licks his nazi yellow fangs
Like the vampire bat over open graves.

Lost in such blood lust nazi dream
He fails to gaze to heaven above
Where fateful retribution waits
A just revenge for innocent blood
Too late! Those messengers of death
Tear through the darkness of the night
And the blackened soul of a nazi beast
Wings hellward in its final flight.

A Toast To Progress

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Henry Wolfe gives us an idea—speaking of the New Dealer's expert suggesting we can eat muskrats that are going to waste; he says—"I have knowed fur sum time them New Dealers had rats in their garret but I didn't suppose they'd ever go ta eatin em."

Well, now sir, that makes perfectly clear to me John Peck's viewpoint.

Tuesday morning, August 24th, Dr. Bradley drew a very graphic picture of the difference between what one wants and what one needs. In my experience for many years as office manager I endeavored to impress those asking frequent salary increases with this theory: "When you learn to live on what you get instead of trying to get more to live on you will be on the road to thrift and will eventually attain the goal of efficiency and self-support."

How much better of all our people would be today had the government advocated thrift instead of the theory the government would provide for all through which has been built up one of the most powerful political machines of all time.

Incompetence and inefficiency seem to be the order of the day.

It was my impression the bitter fight put up by the New Dealers on the Ruml tax plan was because it bore a republican label. However, since receiving the new tax blanks, I have come to the conclusion the Ruml plan was not complicated enough for a New Dealer and therefore would not require an army of government experts to administer.

Worth Repeating

Crab Orchard, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Some facts, some gems of thought, or passages of scripture are well worth repeating at times. He that taketh up the sword shall perish by the sword; had it been repeated often enough in Germany, she probably would not have started the conflagation that may literally burn her up. A remnant may escape. It is conceivable that millions in those ravaged countries have taken a great oath to revenge the terrible crimes done to their countrymen; not on the fields of battle, but on their homeland in their own backyards so to speak.

In The Star some days ago appeared a letter from J. Twilford entitled, farming since 1885. It is worth repeating and herein quoted in part. "For the past 10 years in succession the farmers have had decent prices for the very first time in our history and also for the first time the farmer knows about the price before he plants his crop and again for the first time his Uncle Sam has helped the farmer to get organized so that they can have a voice in their own and public afafirs. He is proud of the fact of soil conservation, low interest for the farmer, safe banks for his money, but the best of all, the ever normal granary.

In the September Country Gentleman on the editorial page, it was stated that with the throttling by congress of the Triple A, an epoch passes in agricultural. That, in plain language, means the congress elected in 1942 stabbed the farm program in the back before any substitute was formulated and none may be enacted. If that proves true, then the farmer can know that he is now on his own in deadly competition for the limited markets with every other farmer, in the world, on a par with the jungles of Africa in a survival of the stronger.

With the ever normal granary locked up, with no government grain loans, with a crushing national war debt, with higher taxes to pay, with high costs of living and with a bankrupt world, inside of two years after the war's end there will be a tremendous surplus. Without the Triple A ever-normal granary and government commodity loans, the surplus makes the price for the entire crop. Who is going to carry the surplus? Before the advent of the Triple A the grain spectulator and grain trade carried the surplus until needed in large part at what price. Go back in your mind to the early 30s and you will have the answer.

Some daily papers and farm journals and some individuals, who are laughing and rejoicing that congress had the courage to swat the cocky farmers, but as always he that laugh lasts, laughs best.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

ULTIMATE WORTH.

Will only the triumphs count in the day when all things are clear?
Is man to be judged at the last as his fellows have judged him here?
Is there only one goal to be reached and only one way to win?
Then what will be said for the ones who lose when the records of all are in?

And what of those gentler souls who never quite mastered skill,
Who had none of the champion's strength and none of the will to kill;
Who rejoiced in the gift of life, its friendships, its laughter and song,
And were well content with the lesser joys which unto the meek belong?

Will only the scores be seen? Will grandeur alone be grand?
Will only what men call fine the praise of the Lord command?
Will they measure the distance run and the time, as is done on earth,
Or will laughter and love and faith be the ultimate proof of worth?

Garden Glances
WITH THE MOON

HAVE YOU SEEN?

Have you seen a boy—just a little chap
With tousled hair and freckles,
Wearing his daddy's baseball cap,
And leading a dog with speckles?

His face is dirty, I'm almost sure;
His play suit out at the knees.
But he's wearing a smile, I'm certain of that,
To defy any chilling breeze.

If you see that merry, bouncing pair,
Wherever their steps may roam—
This boy with freckles and tousled hair—
Please kiss him and send them home.

The moon is in first quarter in the earthy and barren sign, Virgo, this last day of August, 1943. Tomorrow at 1:31 in the afternoon it will enter the airy and fruitful sign, Libra. At 11:18 Friday night it will enter the watery and very fruitful sign, Scorpio. At 6:38 Monday morning it will enter the fiery and barren sign, Sagittarius.

This is the time of year to think of your lawn and how it will look next spring. And please remember that all real lawn grasses are perennials. They want to live and if given half a chance they will do so.

Intelligent Care.

Are you envious of your neighbors' beautiful lawns? You should not be. But you should be happy and proud that you live among them and start now to give your own lawn some intelligent care.

Here is what it takes for a good lawn—friable soil, at least an annual fertilizing, normal rainfall or the equivalent, frequent deep waterings with the hose and short clippings in the early spring and higher ones during the summer months.

Perhaps your lawn is poor because your soil is heavy? Ventilating will greatly benefit heavy soils. And here is how you go about "ventilating." Use a garden fork, some gardeners call them potato forks. Anyhow, at right angles insert the fork to the full length of the tines and then bear down enough to crack the surface. Do this in rows from 6 to 8 inches apart all through the heavy soil.

Great Aid To Lawn.

It has been learned from experince, that greatest teacher of all and sundry, that a deep forking every three or four years will tend to keep a heavy lawn in excellent condition.

If your soil is very sandy then the holes should be enlarged. This may be done by rocking the fork back and forth a few times in each direction. It is always advisable to use a top dressing on real sandy soils—like peat moss, leaf mould or good top soil from a reliable location.

If you are planning to fertilize your lawn next spring then by all means do your fall fertilizing early in September, in an earthy sign, that is if you want to follow the moon's sign. If you don't, any day will do, but watch out for fire signs. Fertilizer applied in fire signs tends to burn, particularly in years when we do not get normal rainfall.. And who can tell what next year may bring in the way of moisture? Not I, certainly.

Middle of October.

If you do not plan to fertilize in the spring then do the fall fertilizing on October 15 or thereabout. Use any good commercial fertilizer you can get. It may not be as easy and simple to obtain as in other years. Sheep manure is excellent if you can be sure is is free of weed seeds. So is well rotted barn yard manure.

But sometimes when purchased from unreliable sources you've spread yourself a bunch of grief. I remember one year at Garfield Manor, George and I pulled weeds all spring and summer. Weeds we'd never known or seen on the great prairie. But there they were growing lustily in our front lawn, an all parts of our lawn, really and how they grew. Nothing could stop them but uprooting — and what a job! What a job!

Walthill Youth Is Cited In FCC Draft Complaint

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—The federal communications commission (FCC) was accused by an investigator for the Cox committee today of obtaining draft deferments for a high percentage of employes on the FCC payroll less than 30 days.

The investigator, Roy Osborn, told the committee created by the house to investigate the commission, that deferment had been obtained for 27 employes within 10 days of their employment and for an additional 58 within 30 days of the time they were entered on the FCC payroll.

Many of the group, Osborn testified at a public hearing, were classified 1-A at the time of their employment and few, he added, had qualifications justifying an occupational deferment.

At the request of acting Chairman Miller (R-Mo) Osborn identified three of the employes he said had been deferred. They included Harold Herman Alam, Walthill, Neb., who was identified by Osborn as a 21-year-old unmarried employe hired on May 26, 1942, after having worked previously in a creamery. The investigator testified that FCC sought a deferment for Alam on June 6, claiming the employe had highly intensified training. After the local draft board retained Alam in 1-A, Osborn said, the FCC appealed successfully to national selective service headquarters for a deferment.

Police Search For Young Torturers Of 5-Year-Old Lad

BOSTON, Aug. 31—(INS)—Police today intensified their search for the young hoodlums responsible for the torture beating of 5-year-old Harold P. Fuller, jr., who is reported near death in a hospital.

Harold was taken to the hospital Saturday, bleeding from multiple wounds. Police said he had been taken to a South Boston cave, bound and gagged, then tortured by a group of older boys. They also disclosed that they have questioned two boys who received one-year suspended sentences for a similar attack on an 8-year-old Back Bay boy.

Floyd Elmgren Is Promoted To Major

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—The war department announced today the temporary promotion of four Nebraska officers.

Capt. Floyd Edward Elmgren of Lincoln, advanced to major in the quartermaster corps.

First Lt. Sol Meyer Wozelman, Omaha, was promoted to captain in the infantry.

Advanced from Second Lt. to First Lt. were Harry Gidinsky Lynn of Omaha, air corps, and Dave Belman of Omaha, infantry.

Kharkov Epidemics Kill 3,550

. . . All Medicines Taken By Nazis, Russ Claim

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—Tass, soviet news agency, said today that at least 3,500 persons—2,000 of them children—died of typhus and dysentry in epidemics which swept Kharkov from March to June this year while the Ukrainian city was in German hands.

The report, broadcast from Moscow and recorded here by the U. S. foreign broadcast intelligence service, said that the bodies of 20 to 25 persons were admitted daily to the morgue and that many other victims were "simply buried in the streets."

"The Germans," the broadcast continued, "destroyed all bath houses, polyclinics, hospitals, etc. All valuable medicines were taken away from the chemists. Medical aid became inaccessible to the population."

Pay Schedule For Principals Is Approved

Maximum salaries for Lincoln school principals and assistant principals were determined and approved, Tuesday, by the board of education Classifications were based on the training and experience of the instructor, the number of months employed, and the size of the school.

Classed By Number.

Lake View and Willard with less than three certificated persons on the faculty, were classified in class I. The maximum of the full time teaching principal with an A. B. degree, was designated at $2,100 and $2,300 for an M. A. degree.

Others in order are: Bancroft, Holmes, Hawthorne, N. E. child center, Norwood and Riley, with maximums of $2,200 and $2,400; Belmont, Capitol, College View high, Bethany, College View elementary and Hayward, maximums, $2,300, and $2,500; Huntington, Park, Randolph, Saratoga, and Sheridan maximums $2,400 and $2,600; Clinton, Everett, Havelock elementary and junior high, Elliott, Hartley and Prescott, maximums $2,500, $2,700 and $2,900 with the assistant principal receiving $200 in addition to the teaching schedule; Irving, Northeast and Whittier, maximums $3,200, $3,600 and $3,800 for 12 months, with the assistant principal receiving $200 in addition to the teaching schedule for 36 weeks of service; Lincoln high school maximums $4,800 and $5,000 for 12 months, and assistant principals maximum $3,200 and $3,600 for 12 months.

The scale of annual increments provided in the teachers schedule applies to principals and assistant principals until maximums are reached.

Elections Approved.

The following elections were approved by the board; Donna Mattox, general office assistant; Ruth Short, principal's clerk; Mrs. Charles A. Wells, general office assistant; Mrs. Florence Priel, part-time substitute teacher; Mrs. Neva S. Bernatz, half-time kindergarten assistant; Glenda Reese, full-time general office assistant; Marian Linch, half-time kindergarten assistant; Mrs. Irene Morris, general office assistant; Mrs. Lotus Pope, full-time principal's clerk; and Geraldine Thomas, half-time kindergarten assistant.

Resignations of Mrs. C. E. Stamm, lunchroom manager; Homer L. Gammill, teacher; and Ray Trowbridge, assistant custodian were also approved.

Mother Traces Paratrooper; Believed Safe

. . . Willard Page Injured

When Mrs. Claude Page 1857 Perkins Blvd., received word from the war department that her son, Pfc. Willard Jerome Page, was missing in action with the paratroopers in Sicily, she hoped, as every mother does, for more definite word.

Mrs. Page now has that word; and she also has hope that her son is alive and somewhere in a Sicilian hospital.

In a picture of her son's paratroop unit, which he had sent to his parents several weeks before, was a man who signed himself John E. Fencik, Kansas City, Kas. So Mrs. Page went to Kansas City, and after a search that proved fruitless, she enlisted the aid of a Kansas City newspaper.

Within a few hours after the item had apepared, Mrs. Page was talking to Pvt. Fencik's sisters, who informed her that a recent letter from Pvt. Fencik related that he and Pfc. Page dropped by parachute into Sicily. Page told companions he believed his legs were broken, Fencik wrote. Encouraged by his friends, he kept on with them during the day, but after nightfall they lost contact with him.

Now, Mrs. Page believes her son has found his way to some American unit, and is under treatment with them.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON.

(Major Robert S. Allen on active duty.)

WASHINGTON—It is a carefully guarded secret inside the state department, but the forced ousting of Sumner Welles has been followed by a purge of other liberal diplomats, especially those who sided with Loyalist Spain against Franco or showed too much sympathy with Gen. De Gaulle.

They are being transferred, or resignations are being requested. Telephones have been tapped, and anyone who shows continued devotion to Sumner Welles or his liberal policies is warned by the clique which now has the ear of Secretary Hull.

Not since the days of Frank B. Kellogg, when the career clique deliberately framed one of its enemies, has there been such a reign of terror around the state department. In Kellogg's day, the lobbying by which certain privileged diplomats were promoting themselves to favored positions was exposed by a certain consul inside the state department. Soon he found himself confronted by his enemies with a trumped-up sex crime, with faked affidavits, the publication of which would have ruined him. He was forced to resign.

Today, stories of divorce, domestic infelicity and sex rumors have been spread regarding certain progressive members of the state department whom it is sought to purge. Once these stories circulate to enough people through the gossip underground, the target of the gossip is told by his superiors that his usefullness is over and he must resign.

Never has the state department been more in need of drastic overhauling. One cabinet member, who has constant relations with the state department regarding the war, has told the President that it was almost impossible for him to do business with the department today.

All this comes at a time when we are hoping to win the peace after the war.

SYNTHETIC TIRE TESTS.

Big Bill Jeffers is in Washington today, but his eyes are fixed on San Antonio, Texas, and Phoenix, Arizona.

In or near those cities the government is conducting road tests with the new synthetic tires produced under rubber administrator's program. Areas in the southwest were selected because the roads are hot, and this provides conditions of the greatest strain. To increase the strain, the trucks are purposely overloaded.

First reports Jeffers received indicated that the synthetic tires wore out in about 6,000 miles. But due to constant changes in the formula and the manufacturing process, the latest synthetic truck tires stand up for 12,000 to 14,000 miles, compared with 18,000 for natural tires undergoing the same tests.

Note: These new truck tires, and all heavy duty tires, are only 770 per cent synthetic, the rest being natural rubber. Synthetic rubber cannot stand up alone in heavy duty tires. Passenger tires will be almost entirely synthetic and will not stand it anywhere near as well.

Jeffers Vs. Ickes.

The speech Interior Secretary Harold Ickes delivered before the New York Sales Executives club, in which he assailed dollar-a-year men fo "bungling" the war effort, produced one repercussion in official circles that didn't get into print.

Rubber Administrator William Jeffers was so infuriated by Ickes' acid comments about the industrial tycoons who are running the war production board that he complained to the white house.

Jeffers phoned Gen. Edwin "Pa" Watson, the president's military secretary, and complained that Ickes was disrupting morale on the home front by heaping the blame for war production shortages and red tape on the shoulders of dollar-a-year men.

"If the president's order against government officials quarreling in public doesn't apply to Secretary Ickes, then the White House had better establish some new ground rules," Jeffers protested. Watson promised to refer the matter to the president. Apparently, he did so, because Jeffers later received a phone call from Bernie Baruch, a top white house counselor.

However what Baruch had to say did little to soothe the rubber chief's ouraged feelings.

"Bill, you'd better stay out of this," Baruch suggested diplomatically. "It's a little out of your line. Maybe you'd better let me handle these situations."

Jeffers promised to restrain himself in the future, so far as White House protests are concerned, but he has been doing some loud squawking behind the scenes to friends about Ickes' speech. He says it was an attempt to clear the administration's skirts for 1944 by fixing the blame for production delays on GOP dollar-a-year men.

Bank Clearings In August Gain Over Last Year

Bank clearings in Lincoln for the month of August, as reported Tuesday, reveal a total of $17,126,622, as against $15,236,669 for the same month in 1942. The figure, however, is slightly less than in July, a decrease of $526,983 being shown from that month's total.

For the first eight months of 1943, clearings were $135,381,166, a sharp increase over the $113,944,683 reported for the same period of last year, or $21,436,483.

The slight decrease during the last thirty days from the July figures is considered normal, and, it was said, is largely due to the fact that many residents, especially professional and business people have been out of the city on vacations. On the whole, the year has been decidedly better than 1942, despite the fact that 1942 was an unusually prosperous year.

Two-thirds of all the peppermint and spearmint oil produced in the United States comes from Indiana.

DFC Awarded 'Scotty' Nicoll, In South Seas

Cpl. Angus "Scotty" Nicholl, former production engineer for KFOR-KFAB and now somewhere in New Guinea, has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, his mother, Mrs. Etta Nicholl of Casper, Wyo., was notified. The award was for Nicholl's completion of 200 hours of long range bombing flights into territory where hostile action might be anticipated.

"We are genuinely proud to have such men in our service," Lt. Gen. George Kenny wrote Mrs. Nicoll.

Enlisting a year ago last January, Corporal Nicoll went overseas in a short time, had his training in Australia, and has been on New Guinea since December, it is believed. His letters gave little information as to his location, and nothing about his own exploits.

"Scotty" had been with the local radio stations for several years before entering the service. His brother, Bruce Nicoll, former Lincoln Star staff member, was graduated from provost marshal school and is now serving in England.

$25 Voted By County For Office Supplies

Lancaster county District court reporters were granted a double amount for cost of office supplies during the third quarter of the year, on motion of County Commissioner Fred Hall at the county board meeting Tuesday. Their claim was for $25 while the usual amount for this expense was $12.50 before the cost of materials swung upward.

The commissioners also reappointed Robert S. Griswold to represent the county on the Lincoln health advisory board.

Laborless Labor Day

How about a laborless Labor Day for you, the Homemaker? Truly you deserve relaxation along with the rest of the family! And it can be done, you know.

To make sure the day will be free from cooking, plan your menus for the entire week end so that practically all the meals can be cooked Saturday. Holiday meals needn't follow the regular schedule. With breakfast later in the morning and heartier, too, and a substantial dinner in the offing, lunch can be merely a snack or left out entirely. Of course dinner should be plentiful enough to take care of robust appetites, so we recommend the following:

LABOR DAY DINNER

Old-fashioned Baked Beans
Hot Spiced Beets
Cabbage, Carrot and Orange Slaw
Whole Wheat or Boston Brown Bread
Butter or Margarine
Applesauce Shortcake
Beverage

Ahead-of-time cooking—The beans, beets and shortcake can all be prepared ahead of time so that most of the work is done. Just reheat the beans for an hour before serving time. The beets can be cooked for Saturday with enough left over to spice and reheat for Monday. The shortcake and applesauce can easily be prepared earlier and united at the last moment.

For that holiday air—If it is warm enough, carry the dinner outdoors and enjoy it picnic style. If the weather discourages this, then serve it buffet style with everyone serving himself. What a work-saver this method is and everyone enjoys that kind of dinner.

Baked beans can be different—Practically everyone has her special way of baking beans. My favorite method is to put an onion in the bottom of the bean pot, then heap in the boiled beans, add sweetening, seasonings and enough bean liquor for moisture and bake. The onion flavor permeates each and every bean in a most delicious manner. If you want to be different, try baking other beans such as limas, pink or pinto beans by your favorite method. While they are in season, chopped fresh tomatoes can be used instead of tomato sauce, too.

Early bird shoppers—If you want to get a running start on the relaxation schedule, then do your shopping early with your complete menus in mind and overlapping each other. For instance, a meat loaf could be served hot Saturday and cold Sunday. Vegetables for one meal can go into the salad the next day, and so on throughout the week end.

JUST DESSERTS—If you want to finish dinner off in a triumphant manner, then look to Julia Lee Wright's article in this week's Family Circle Magazine. It's all about sugar and shortening saving desserts.

Plan to Attend the Nebraska State Fair Sept. 5 to 10, incl.

Although streamlined to some extent this year, the fair again promises to be interesting, inspiring, and entertaining. Among the main features will be the 4-H Club show of livestock, agricultural products, and domestic sciences. There will be three evening horse shows—the 5th, 6th, and 7th, and grandstand entertainment during the following three evenings. Also, you will want to witness the 4-H beef auction Friday morning. Let's all go. Our attendance will be an expression of our gratitude to all those who are developing Nebraska's agriculture, etc., and will contribute to the success of this eagerly anticipated event.

HERE IN LINCOLN

To Tell of Tour—Joe W. Seacrest, who has just returned from a 19,000 mile tour of South American countries, will be the guest speaker at the first regular Scottish Rite meeting of the fall season, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the temple, 1635 L street.

Service Meeting — The DuTeau Chevrolet service organiaztion met Monday night at the Cornhusker to discuss ways and means to render better service to cars and trucks in the Lincoln territory. Carl Griesemer, service manager, presided at the business session, which was preceded by dinner.

Jobbers Hear Hird—A group meeting of jobbers and representatives of the Continental Oil company was held Monday night at the Lincoln hotel. W. F. Hird, division manager, gave a review of sales activities pertaining to the farmer and quoted statistics on Nebraska farm income, which he compared with other states. He told some interesting facts concerning the petroleum industry and what it means to the business world. W. D. Perry presented a sound picture entitled "An Ounce of Prevention," which portrayed the care and maintenance of tractors.

Youth Admits Forgery — Glen Bowers, 17, of West Lincoln, pleaded guilty before District Judge Fred Shepherd Tuesday to forgery but his sentence was delayed pending procurance of farm job for the youth by Adult Probation Officer George Meyer. If work is found for Bowers he will be put on probation, the court indicated. Bowers was working with Bill Henry, 20, who recently pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery and was sentenced to two to three years in the state reformatory. The information read that one of the boys would write the checks and the other would pass them. Bowers was charged with making a check out for $20 to Bill Henry on the date of August 16.

HUNGRY HILL

BASED ON THE NEW BEST SELLER BY THE AUTHOR OF "REBECCA"

By Daphne du Maurier

Henry looked up to see the woman from next door watching him.

"I can't understand it . . ."

Over the teacups, he relaxed and began to talk.

IT WAS TOM CALLAGHAN who did everything. He arranged for Katherine's funeral. He arranged for Herbert to take the children to Lletharrog. Henry saw and heard nothing. The only thing for which he gave orders himself was to stop all building on the house.

When the pain of his grief had dimmed somewhat, Henry left Doonhaven and spent four months traveling abroad. Then he took a house in London for himself and the children. But shortly after he was settled in the new place, a letter arrived from his mother, asking for a rather larger check than usual, and Henry suddenly determined to go across the water to Nice and see her.

Fanny-Rosa was not at home when Henry arrived at her villa. He banged on the knocker in vain, and finally looked up to see the woman from next door standing on her verandah, watching him. She was about 45, rather handsome, with striking blue eyes.

The woman smiled and came over. "My name is Price," she said. "Adeline Price. You may have heard of my husband, General Price, in the Indian Army. He died three years ago, and I've been living down here. Can I help you?"

"My mother seems to be away," Henry said.

With brisk efficiency Mrs. Price found the key under a loose tile, opened the door and led the way inside. On a table was a cup that had held coffee, the dregs still in it. The kitchen was full of unwashed crockery, and there were vegetables, uncooked, crammed into a coal bucket. The bedroom was littered with clothes, and the bed had not been made. Henry walked through the rooms as if in a daze. "I can't understand it," he said.

"You're coming next door to have tea with me," Mrs. Price said firmly. "You can wait there for your mother." Henry followed her, protesting politely. But over the teacups he relaxed and began to talk, telling Mrs. Price about himself, about his children. There was something so sane and encouraging about her manner. She was amusing, too, and her shrewd comments showed her to be no fool. Suddenly he stopped. "I've talked too much about myself," he said. "There's no sign of my mother. What about dining with me in Nice, and telling me about yourself instead?"

Mrs. Price blushed, and seemed suddenly ten years younger.

OPA To Appeal Georgia Court Rent Decision

. . . Control to Continue

ATLANTA, Aug. 31—(AP)—Attorneys for the office of price administration today prepared an appeal from a decision of the middle Georgia U. S. District court which invalidated provisions of the emergency price control act.

At the same time, regional OPA headquarters announced that administration and enforcement of the entire act, including the rent control section, would "continue on the same basis" as before yesterday's ruling by Federal Judge Bascom S. Deaver at Macon.

In Washington, Henry M. Hart, j ., acting OPA chief counsel, said it is probable the Supreme court eventually must make a ruling to bring lower court decisions into conformity, and declared rent control regulations would be enforced pending final adjudication.

The United States emergency Court of Appeals at Washington and Federal District courts in Kansas, eastern Michigan, Minnesota and Nebrasaka have upheld the rent section which Judge Deaver declared unconstitutional.

One More Ring Bout For Hammerin 'Hank

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—George Moore, manager of Henry Armstrong, said today the former triple-titleholder has reconsidered his plan to retire from the ring immediately and will engage in one more bout, meeting Slugger White in Los Angeles Sept. 18.

Armstrong, decisively defeated by Ray Robinson here last Friday night, had announced he was through fighting, but Moore said that inasmuch as the contract for the White bout already had been signed and the promoter had gone to considerable expense, Henry has agreed to go through with it.

THIS MONTH OF SEPTEMBER

where 17 out of the force of 75 axis planes that took to the skies were shot down. The allies reported the loss of 15 planes. The entire southern Italian boot rocked to the thud of bombs as African middle-eastern forces stepped up the intensity of their air attack. And reports trickling out of Italy told of mounting rebelliousness on the part of the Italian people, weary and sick of war, anxious to quit but unable to find a way out. The Italian news agency Stefani reflected the increasing turmoil in reports that Counts Grandi and Ciano have been retired, the Prefect of Rome dismissed, numerous high-ranking fascist party officials arrested. The Vatican radio announced a brief message from Pope Pius XII shortly after noon Wednesday. An NBC correspondent, Don Hollenbeck, formerly of Lincoln, broadcasting from Algiers, said that German troops still were moving through Rome.

DIGGING FOR THE JAPS—Again the Japs gulped down a heavy aerial defeat which cost them at least 25 and possibly 37 planes out of a force of 60 shot down as allied bombers dumped 114 tons of explosives on the airfields at Wewak in New Guinea, and Boram. Twelve additional planes caught on the ground were destroyed, and 17 more damaged in sky battles, while the Wewak airdrome was a blazing furnace. A Japanese cruiser caught off the coast of New Ireland, ree'ed under the force of a direct hit by a heavy bomb.

A WIDE ARC—MacArthur's airmen were covering a wide arc. Below Wewak they hammered the Japanese stronghold at Madang, and the nearby bases at Alexishafen, Admosin, Sek islands, Amron mission, and Pogadjin, Babo on New Guinea suffered heavy damage, Gasmata on New Britain fought huge fires, and Kolombangara, Santa Isobel and Bougainville reeled under the explosion of bombs. On the ground the American and Australian jungle fighters repulsed heavy Japanese attacks with heavy losses. The Japanese cargo ship was damaged in the Vitiac straits. Large numbers of Japanese barges were sent to the bottom during these sweeps.

REPORT OF LANDING—The German radio put out a wholly fictitious report of the repulse of an allied landing on the southeast coast of Italy, somewhere in the Reggio di Calabria region. At the most it could have been nothing more than a scouting expedition with Eisenhower in possession of hundreds of thousands of troops. He employed 300,000 men in the Sicilian campaign, which furnishes a measure of German desperation for crumbs to feed its people. Any serious undertaking would have involved thousands of men.

SWEDEN IN MIND?—The mounting tension between Germany and Sweden suggested Hitler had a desperate plan, possibly in mind. As Russian armies press him closer to the Reich border, there is a familiar and ominous ring to the charges Germany is hurling against the Swedes. They are identical with the attack upon Poland, and only the increasingly grave position he occupies stands against a possible campaign directed to Sweden. He needs Sweden now to guard against an allied stab across Norway for a firmer grip on the Balkans and to keep Finland in the war. On the basis of his behavior in relations to Stockholm at the moment, it is clear he may be toying with the thought of seizing all Sweden by force as soon as his soldiers re-establish quiet in Denmark.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS—In Denmark all active Danish military officers and many political leaders were under arrest Tuesday as the nazis shed their "protective mask." The chairman of the Danish conservative party, Bioern Ole Kraft, and Kfibiger were two of the more prominent Danish leaders held prisoner. More than 450 Danish soldiers had been shot and killed. Between 800 and 1,000 Danish officers were taken into custody, together with 500 people. The Germans broke into King Christian's palace, overpowering the guard, and he and his wife were under arrest. The German high command in Denmark has ordered all German soldiers on leave to report for duty at once. Travel has been suspended; and 8 o'clock curfew established. Stockholm reported that the formation of a new Danish government appeared likely as the nazis took over Denmark—lock, stock and barrel. And in scattered French districts German occupation forces and French patriots were fighting, with the bitterest struggle in the Savoy mountains.

INTO NORTHERN UKRAINE—As a special order of the day, late Tuesday, Premier Stalin announced in Moscow that soviet troops have entered the northern Ukraine. The collapse of the entire German front in southern Russia appeared to be within the possibilities as the Russian columns pushed 30 miles to the west of Taganrog and fell upon large German forces trapped in that region. To the north an estimated 600,000 Germans faced graver danger as Russian columns to the south and west of Kharkov menaced their escape routes to the Dnieper river defenses. In the Bryansk sector Russian forces already were in artillery range and made fresh advances Tuesday after repulsing 17 German counter-attacks aimed to protect the vital Bryansk-Kiev railroad. More than 150 populated places around Taganrog had been occupied. And Hitler still had 200,000 Germans in the western Caucasus to extricate. The towns in the northern Ukraine occupied were Gludhod and Ryisk.

CHURCHILL MESSAGE—Winston Churchill was back in Quebec after a rest in the Laurentian mountains, and addressed the Canadians in a world-wide hookup. His appeal was particularly directed to the people of France to be of good faith in their ultimate liberation. France, he said, would rise again, united, free, and independent. And President Roosevelt, back in Washington, turned his attention to the rising costs of living in America, shortages of food, gasoline and fuel, and other domestic matters. Churchill was expected to come to Washington in the middle of the week.

DEEP INTO FRANCE—During the daylight hours Tuesday, American bombers ranged deep into France to blast axis bases . . . General Korten has been named chief of staff of the German airforce . . . The London radio said that bombing of German cities had affected the morale of nazi troops in Norway . . . Moscow reported that 3,500 men, women and children died in Kharkov from typhus and dysentery between March and June of this year . . . Between 20 and 25 starved to death daily . . . Medicines were destroyed, sanitary facilities laid to ruin, and thousands of children died of disease and hunger . . . Tokyo inadvertently on its radio admitted Japanese pilots have machine gunned American airmen seeking to parachute to safety from disabled planes . . . Another Danish minesweeper reached a Swedish port safely Tuesday . . . Changes in British war production will result in heavy increases, London reported, with an increase of 25 per cent over 1942 during the second quarter of the year . . . In Quebec, Winston Churchill voiced an outright appeal for an early conference between the foreign ministers of Great Britain, the United States, and soviet Russia.

'Spirituality Guided Life Of Mrs. Doyle'

. . . Says Dr. Aitken

"Religion. to Mrs. Dora Doyle, was wholeness, sweetness, and kindness. She had the remarkable experience of combining the spiritual with the social affairs of life. No one could ever question her positive and definite faith in the fundamental principles of the Christian religion," said Dr. Walter Aitken at funeral services for Mrs. Doyle, held Tuesday afternoon at St. Paul Methodist church.

"It was the faith that was the inspiration of her social interests. She never wavered in one and consequently was successful in the other. Out of the fullness of her life came the social passion. There were times when she would come to church on Sunday morning with a heart so heavy that the burden seemed more than she could bear. Then she would gather strength and inspiration for her work among erring girls and women at the police station. To this class of women she was counsellor, adviser, and mother.

"She was annually well qualified for work of this kind—she had a warm heart, a tender sipirt, and a motherly attitude which gave her a striking influence with young girls, and we feel sure that on'y eternity will reveal the good she did among them," Dr. Aitken said.

Dr. Gerald Kennedy officiated at the services. Ed Boehmer sang. Pall bearers were J. Harry Willis, J. G. Ludlam, Frank Robbins, Dan E. DePutron, E. H. Masters and C. E. Prevey. Burial was in Wyuka cemetery.

Dr. Johnson Case To Supreme Court

Lena Johnson, administratrix of the estate of Dr. Czar C. Johnson, has appealed to the Supreme court from a judgment given by a jury in Judge Frederick Shepherd's Lancaster county District court for $2,082.65 for damages and medical expenses resulting from deical care involving two operations by Dr. Johnson upon Mary Erma Douglas.

County Judge Reid allowed the claimant $1,800 in probate court.

The operations were performed early in 1938. Dr. Johnson died August 21, of the same year. Pleadings set out that the surgeon agreed to operate first for a tumor abscess but performed an appendectomy. Later a second operation was performed for removal of the tumor. Damages in the amount of $5,482.65 were originally sought.

Soldier Charged With Rape Attempt Is Found Guilty

GRAND ISLAND, Aug. 31—(AP)— Pvt. Fausto Agredano, found guilty of assault and attempt to rape, was sentenced to five years confinement and to be hishonorably discharged from the army by a military court late yesterday at the Grand Island army air base.

The findings of the court and sentence, which also carries the forfeiture of all pay due or to be due, is subject to review by the commanding general of the second air force.

PITCHER NEWSOM AGAIN ON WHEELS

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31—(INS)—Buck Newsom, veteran pitcher and baseball's stormy petrel, has been sold by the St. Louis Browns to the Washington Senators via the waiver route, Bill DeWitt, vice-president of the St. Louis American league club, announced today.

Newsom has won one game and lost six since the Browns obtained him from Brooklyn in the middle of July.

SEPTEMBER CAN'T BE a BIGGER month... but it could be a BETTER one

TOMORROW BEGINS A NEW MONTH—and what it will hold in the way of fortune or misfortune, no one knows—August is not passing in any particular blaze of glory as far as social life is concerned, although up until the last week, it has had its high spots.

What definite information there is, with regard to September has to do with its brides and its guests—September 4, of course, is the wedding date of Miss Marjorie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Smith, and Arthur Pierson, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Pierson—And on Thursday, September 9, Miss Mary Janet McGeachin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McGeachin, will marry Charles Birney Allen in New York City.

ON THE GUEST LIST for early September is Mrs. Arden R. Chapman who comes next Sunday from New Orleans to spend a short time with her sister, Mrs. C. F. Schwarz.

A number of informal affairs have been planned for Mrs. Chapman during her stay here.

AND THEN THERE ARE THE RYANS—Lieut. and Mrs. Richard—and their young son, Richard, jr., Lieut. Ryan, whose "Spin In Dumbwhacks," is one of the most popular books of its kind to have been published during the war, has been transferred since his book was published—At present he is stationed at Moses Lake, Wash., but came to Nebraska to spend his leave, Mrs. Ryan and young Dick, who joined him in Lincoln upon his arrival Monday evening, have been spending several weeks with Mrs. Ryan's relatives in Geneva.

Tomorrow Lieut. and Mrs. Ryan and their son will go to Wymore where they will spend a few days with the lieutenant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Ryan, but wil return to Lincoln for another brief stay.

* * * * * * * * * * *

A BRIDE AND A FIANCEE

The bride (left) is Mrs. Clarence Hall, jr., who before her marriage at St. Peter Catholic church in Houston, Tex., on August 16, was Miss Arlene Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Weiss of Exeter.

Lieut. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall of Marshall, Tex., is stationed at Kelly field, San Antonio, where he is taking advanced flight training.

The engagement of Miss Libbie Marie Traunicek, of Ann Arbor Mich., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Traunicek, of Linwood, to Henry B. Dirks, jr., son of Dean and Mrs. H. B. Dirks, of East Lansing, Mich., has been announced.

The wedding will be an event of late autumn.

There also is the possibility that Lieut. Ryan's brother, Lieut. Irwin Ryan, will be home on leave from his Alaskan station sometime within the week.

The Ryan brothers, both University of Nebraska men, are Sigma Nus—Mrs. Ryan, the former Ethel Beeson, is a Tri Delt at Nebraska university.

ANOTHER GUEST who arrived in August, but who is remaining until the first week in September, is Mrs. Harry E. Riddle of Bloomington, Ill., who is spending several days as the guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Aitken.

THE SCHOOL SET — at least the feminine portion of it with plans for schools in the east and the south, will be leaving in a few days—some for the first time, and others as upper classmen—So, the affair at the Lincoln Country club Wednesday evening is more or less in the way of a good-bye get-together for various members of the group.

The party begins at 5:30 o'clock—there is to be bridge or swimming, or both—and dinner.

In the eightsome will be Miss Jettie McIntosh, who is returning to Ward-Belmont school, Nashville, Tenn., where she will be a high school senior—Joan Guenzel and Katherine Reese—also Ward-Belmont students this year—Louise Gold—who returns to Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, Ill.—Joan Holmes, who goes back to Marymount school, Tarrytown-on - the-Hudson — Martha Aitken and Jacqueline Louise Merritt—two of a six-some who will attend Monticello school at Godfrey, Ill—and Ella Margaret Burket, who will take her senior year in high school at Stephens, Columbia, Mo.

NEWS FROM THE WEST COAST — Santa Barbara, Cal., to be specific, tells of Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Osborn—Lieut. Osborn, who recently returned to the States from the south Pacific area, must remain in Santa Barbara for the time being because he is hospitalized to the extent of treatments during various periods of the day. However, since he is permitted a certain amount of free time, he and Mrs. Osborn—the former Eugenia Faulkner—are seeing the sights in the vicinity of Santa Barbara—

* * *

SPEAKING OF THE OSBORN family—Mrs. Wallace Crites—who before her marriage last spring was Miss Jean Osborn has some very exquisite antherium lilies which came all of the way from Hawaii via Clipper and so on—Incidentally the lilies arrived in excellent condition—due to the fact that they were sent by Lieut. Crites only three days before they arrived in Lincoln.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Pays Courtesy To Two Members

The Alpha Beta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met Monday evening at the Ambassador party room in honor of two members, Miss Jeanette Orsterberg, who is moving to Omaha, and Miss Ruth Mesher, whose marriage to Andrew Miller of Philadelphia will take place soon. Gifts were presented to the honorees, after which refreshments were served.

—WMC CONFERENCE—

War Production Lags Because Of Labor Shortage

...Rarig Tells Directors

Speaking Tuesday before 16 local area directors of the war manpower commission, Frank M. Rarig, Jr., regional director of WMC, and Brig. General Guy N. Henninger, state director of selective service, summarized provisions under recent war manpower regulations.

Shortages Critical.

Rarig explained that the new regulations were necessary because, "we are faced with critical manpower shortages that have actually effected production," and warned that, "unless we are successful with the new voluntary manpower controls, whereby part of the draftable fathers change to critical occupations and essential work, it is difficult to see how we can avoid the necessity of a national service act."

It was pointed out to the local war manpower administrators that more men, which include fathers, were direly needed both by essential industries and the armed services, General Henninger explained, "It isn't unpatriotic for a man with home responsibilities to go into essential work. That is what we want him to do."

"Even in this region, including Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and North and South Dakota, we are faced with shortages that we have been unable to meet," Rarig reported. "For example, foundries and packing plants in Omaha need men desperately and these needs must be met if vital war production is to be maintained."

Penalties Provided.

New regulations providing penalties for lack of observance were discussed. If WMC finds that employers are pirating workers from other essential activities it will take steps to see that those employes are returned to their former jobs. Workers who are shifting from job to job, hampering war production will be penalized.

Local WMC area directors who attended conferences Monday and Tuesday are: Evelyn Boldt, Alliance; Robert W. Kline, Beatrice; Miriam Richardson, Columbus; O. B. Ziggafoos, Grand Island; C. O. Richardson, Falls City; Roscoe Wright, Hastings; B. E. Ogden, Lincoln; William Parkinson, Omaha; H. E. Alexander, North Platte; Glenn Noble, Nebraska City; R. O. Rains, McCook; Harold L. Mahan, Scottsbluff; Frank Howell, Kearney; Francis Hiner, Sidney; Walter Steffen, Norfolk and George Sancha, Fremont.

Grand Jury Will Consider 24 Cases

The Federal grand jury which convenes in Lincoln Wednesday will hear 24 cases presented by the district attorney for possible indictment. Assistant District Attorney Fred Hawxby estimated that the jury would finish its business by Saturday.

Fourteen alleged selective service law violations are to be considered. The cases to be presented include that of Robert R. Pierce, who is charged with mail fraud and violation of the federal securities act. Pierce, posing as an agent of an oil company, sold worthless stock to several Lincoln residents, it is charged.

Thomas Clyde Palmer, who is said to have confessed to all reported mail thefts in Lincoln durthe the past two months, also faces possible indictment.

Also on the list are the cases against Roy P. Duff of Lincoln, charged with embezzlement of government property from the Lincoln air base, and Robert Louis James and James Frank Young, charged with robbing the Stromsburg bank last June.

Other cases include alleged violations of the Mann act, veteran's administration act, theft of mail, and damaging of a mail box.

Breakfast Honors Cenith Votroubek

An early morning breakfast was held in the office of County Assessor Harry W. Scott Tuesday before doors opened for business, in honor of Cenith Votroubek, clerk who is resigning her position to be married. She has been with the office for two and a half years.

She is engaged to Warren Baker, Pawnee City, and will be married in the near future.

The office force also presented Miss Votroubek with a large painting of a bowl of fruit. Tuesday was her last day at the office.

City Salaries Boost Adds To Berg's Labors

. . . Deductions Figured

Increases in the pay of some 450 municipal employes for the coming fiscal year beginning September 6, has created an additional job for Finance Director Theo Berg, and Deputy Clerk Wayne Harvey. Tuesday they started figuring the new deductions that must be made from each worker's pay, some of whom are paid weekly, others semi-monthly, and still others monthly.

Those paid by the week are generally classed as laborers, with all regularly employed people receiving their warrants semi-monthy. Directors, members of the council and a number of others are on the monthly rolls.

Since pay deductions for income taxes and Victory taxes became effective on July 1, Mr. Berg has been withholding the average as set up by the federal government in the several income brackets. The new deductions, however, will be on the actual pay received, be said.

increases amount to 10 per cent on

For the bulk of the employes the the first $100 and 5 per cent on the second $100 or fraction. The first deductions from the pay of these employes will be on their warrants of September 15. The first deductions from the weekly pay will be on September 8.

Lost Dog Tries Boarding Cars To Find Master

. . . Police To Rescue

Shortly after noon Monday Police Sergeant Harry Coeglein pulled away from Thirteenth and N streets with a nice little English bulldog in the cruiser's back seat.

Sergeant Coeglein, passing by, had noticed the little fellow trying to get on street cars as they passed. When refused entry, he would sit down in front of the car until forced to move. It was quite evident that he was lost and badly in need of a friend.

For several hours the dog occupied the desk sergeant's inner sanctum while Sergeant Dale Carpenter tried to find the owner. He was friendly to those who spoke to him, but his occasional whines very emphaticaly said that he wanted his master to come and take him home.

Unable to locate the owner, the sergeant finally reluctantly called the Humane Society, and the dog was taken to the shelter house.

The humane officers had better luck. The owner was located, and the dog was delivered to his home—after a very adventurous day.

O'Malley Talks On Income Tax Law At Dental Meeting

George W. O'Malley, Omaha collector of internal revenue for Nebraska, gave a talk on income tax problems, at a dinner meeting of the Lincoln Dental society Monday evening at the Cornhusker.

He explained the new provisions of the withholding tax as it applies to the present income tax law, explaining the responsibility of the taxpayer in filing an estimate of his income tax for the year 1943, which must be filed on or before September 15.

Special guests besides Mr. O'Malley were Max Main, chief deputy collector of internal revenue, Dr. R. B. Beldon and Dr. A. C. Zierott, Seward; Dr. C. N. Totman, Elmwood; Dr. William Wallace, Friend; Dr. C. C. Lillibridge, Crete; Dr. L. R. Aksamit and Dr. J. F. Shramek, Wilber; Dr. O. H. Ziegenbein, Ashland; Jack Horner, Milford.

More than thirty were in attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Dr. Ray Brigham, president of the Lincoln Dental society.

Contracts Awarded

OMAHA, Aug. 31—(AP)—Four contracts, one for less than $100,000, the other three for less than $50,000, have been awarded in Nebraska and Wyoming, Col. Ole G. Hoaas, U. S. district engineer, announced. They are:

WINN-SENTER CONSTRUCTION CO., Kansas City, Mo., building construction in Hall county, Neb.

ROGNSTAND OLSON CONSTRUCTION CO., Casper, Wyo., building construction in Natrona county, Wyoming.

EMPIRE CONSTRUCTION CO., INC., Omaha, water storage facility in Sarpy county, Neb.

Brief Filed—Attorneys for Rosenberg Brothers of Lexington filed a brief in Supreme court in their appeal from a judgment of District Judge Tewell of Dawson county district court in favor of Minnie L. Meyers who obtained clearance of title of land she inherited from her father as against an 18-year old judgement in a lower court for the purchase of a tractor. The original judgment for $600 was for balance due, the tractor having, it is alleged, been bought by Mrs. Myers and her husband jointly, which Mrs. Myers denied.

AN HONOR WON IN 1909...

...is behind THE TASTE APPEAL OF today

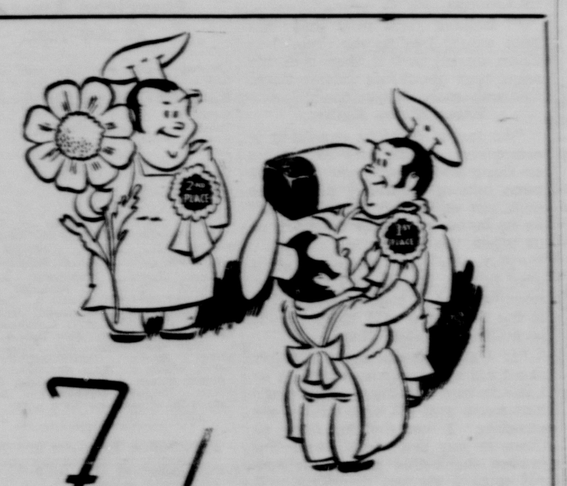

"JARS USABLE in CANNING"

In 1888 the H. P. Lau Company became pioneer Nebraska coffee roasters. Hard working early settelrs were hungry for a coffee with a rich full flavor—one whose goodness would never fail them. They responded rapidly to a careful blending of the finest coffees then grown, which was packed under the brand name of "Lau Double Value." This pioneer brand won many honors including a highly prized diploma signed by two prominent Nebraskans.

Step by step every improvement in coffee growing and roasting has been used to make the successor of this popular early brand an even finer blend. Enjoy the superb TASTE APPEAL of MILADY, the Nebraska roasted coffee with a heritage of quality.

Yankee Stock On Rising Market

—FAVORED NOW TO TURN BACK CARDS—

By JUDSON BAILEY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—A month ago, the St. Louis Cardinals were being talked of as probable favorites in the world series, but if the annual classic were opening now, the New York Yankees almost certainly would be odds-on choices.

They probably will be when the world series opens in October, too.

The Yankees have been picking up momentum on the home stretch, while the Cardinals have been slowing down. The difference between them was shown again yesterday when the Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox, 3-1, while St. Louis split a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates in the only games played in the major leagues. The Pirates won the opener, 4-3, but the Cardinals came back with an 8-3 triumph.

Yankee Rookie Delivers.

At New York, Rookie Charley Wensloff pitched four-hit ball and Roy Weatherly punched the winning ticket with a two-run homer, his third in two days.

This gave the Yanks their thirteenth consecutive series and a record of having won 42 out of 59 games since the streak started on July 5.

They now have plenty of power and good fielding, along with the best pitching in the major leagues, with a staff led by Spud Chandler, Ernie Bonham and Wensloff. Chandler has won 17 games, and Bonham and Wensloff each 12.

The Cardinals have their spectacular speed and sharp hitting, but their fielding has faltered and their pitching has become uncertain.

Cards Fielding Loosely.

In losing four of their last six games, they have made 11 errors, five yesterday and at least one in every contest.

They made 11 hits in the 10-inning first game with the Pirates and 13 in the nightcap, but Rookie Alpha Brazle, who had not been beaten in any of his previous National league starts, gave Pittsburgh a dozen blows in the opener and his teammates made three critical errors.

Harry Brecheen held the Buccaneers to eight safeties in the second game and the Redbirds wrapped up the decision with a five-run flurry in the third inning.

BUSINESS of naming the greatest ball player, also the greatest pitcher, in major league annals is bound to be provocative of arguments, inasmuch as the so-called "experts" would be sure to disagree.

Rice Names Babe Ruth As Greatest

I note, for instance, that Grantland Rice, eminent New York commentator on sports, hails Babe Ruth as his No. 1 greatest player—greatest because, in Mr. Rice's opinion, the Babe was the "best all-around player in outfield, infield, pitching and hitting."

With which opinion there are plenty persons in the ranks of students of the diamond game who will decline to concede Ruth's superiority over Ty Cobb from the viewpoint of all-around ability.

It is true that Ruth was a high-grade pitcher in the early years of his career on the "big time" with the Boston Red Sox, yet the Babe's fame was founded in the main on his ability to slap the agate for circuit-trippers, in which phase of the game his all-time record never may be equalled.

IN THE case of Ty Cobb, the "Georgia Peach" was an outfielder from the day he broke in as a rookie with the Detroit Tigers of 1905 until he hung up his glove in 1928 as a member of Connie Mack's Athletics.

But Cobb Tops Babe In My Book

Inasmuch as Cobb was in big league spangles during 24 seasons, his endurance total surpasses all other modern performers in the game.

So Cobb not only lasted longer than anybody else, but the record shows that he was responsible for more base hits, more runs and more stolen bases than any other player ever wearing big league spikes. His leadership in the three departments mentioned surely offsets—perhaps by a substantial edge—Ruth's margin in home run drives.

And the all-time batting percentages also are in Cobb's favor. Whereas Ty's life-time average was .367, Ruth was 25 points in the rear, his all-time mark being .342. Ruth a greater player than Cobb? I question it. My choice points the finger of superiority at the Georgia flash.

BUT Mr. Rice bobs up again — this time to quote Andy Coakley, big leaguer of 25 or more years ago, as voting the wreath of pitching supremacy to the late Christy Mathewson—"Matty the Great" for the New York Giants when the Clan McGraw was so frequently tops of the heap.

Coakley's Award Goes To Matty

"Christy Mathewson," said Coakley, long time coach for the Columbia U. baseballers, "was the best and smartest pitcher I ever saw in more than 40 years' connection with the game. I'll admit that Matty never had as much stuff as Walter Johnson and never had the incredible stamina of Cy Young, but Matty, nevertheless, was the best."

Plenty room here, I suggest, to justify coming in with a counter punch, for this column declines to give approval to the Coakley pick. Greatest of all major league pitchers—that is, in my book — was Walter Johnson. Both Young and Mathewson, super pitchers that they unquestionably were, qualify with me only as runners-up to the "Big Train," and not one whit higher.

MATHEWSON'S career in the majors covered a period of 17 years, during which he accounted for 373 victories as against 188 defeats, a life-time pitching percentage of .665.

Johnson's percentage was .595, based on 413 wins and 280 reverses, while Young's record lists 510 successes and 313 defeats for a percentage of .620.

Johnson My Leading Pitcher

But, at times, mere percentages are deceiving. They fail to take into account the fact that Mathewson did most of his pitching for the Giants, a club, with John McGraw as its manager, which was an outstanding aggregation and often winner of pennants.

Whereas Johnson spent all of his 22 pitching years with the Washington Senators, a frequent second division club and only twice winner of a pennant. Cy Young was similarly unfortunate, as he, too, tasted the sweets of only two pennants.

So it's thumbs down for Mr. Coakley. I take Johnson for these reasons: He holds two all-time records—one for total strikeouts, the other for total shutout victories. There could be no more convincing evidence of pitching leadership.

Appling of Chicago's Sox Goes Ahead of Wakefield In Hit Leadership Race.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—After several weeks of battling Dick Wakefield of Detroit for the American league batting lead, Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox has taken control with a comfortable margin again.

Luke Appling

The Tiger rookie was on top a week ago with a .330 average, but since then has dropped five points, while the veteran shortstop of the White Sox has spurted upward from .329 to .337.

This pair apparently has the hitting race in the junior circuit strictly between themselves because not another regular in the entire league is above the .300 level.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals continued to set an unapproachable pace in the National league with a .353 average. The 10 leaders in each league:

"Bucko" Must Pay That Grocery Bill

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31—(INS)—Norman "Buck" Newsom, pitcher for the St. Louis Browns, was minus part of his income today after issuance by the circuit court in St. Louis of an execution order garnisheeing his salary following his refusal to pay a $935 grocery bill owed in Hartsville, S. C., his home town.

Oliver Blackinton, attorney for the grocery store, last week received a letter from Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, who said Newsom had denied owing the bill or ever receiving a bill for the goods.

Blackinton said his client had notified him that the pitcher admitted during a long-distance phone conversation that he owed the bill.

Kirkwood Turned Down By The Haig

DETROIT, Aug. 31—(INS)—Walter Hagen, Detroit golf professional, has rejected a challenge by Joe Kirkwood of Philadelphia to an exhibition match.

Kirkwood offered to play Hagen for $2,000, with the loser giving $1,000 to charity.

In refusing the bid, Hagen commented "I've been beating him for 20 years."

Dizzy Dean tried to put one of his old fast ones over in announcing that three major clubs offered him contracts. But that old fast one is just something in Dean's scrapbook.

That Man May Bobs Up Again

—Croesus of Golf Has New Idea—

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31—(INS)—Not to get out there running ahead of the pistol, but merely to relate what has been learned from others, Mr. George S. May, the one-man golf association, is understood to be working on something he considers mildly gigantic, for a September release.

It is his plan, as we understand it, to establish the nation's No. 1 professional golfer for the year by matching the winner of his Tam O'Shanter open, Jug McSpaden, with the winner of the recent victory open here, namely Sam Byrd, who started out in life to be a ball-player but recovered just in the nick of time.

That doesn't sound very pretentious. It doesn't even sound like Mr. George S. May, the gentleman in the sport shirt of caste green, set off by what seemed to be very agitated forget-me-nots of canary yellow, who not only ran a $10,000 open here within recent months, but threatened to make it $25,000 next year, with cash money for any amateurs who felt like turning honest.

At the last tournament, for instance, he had Sergeant Joe Louis shuffling morosely over the landscape in daily exhibitions, Walter Hagen drawing $250 a day just for showing up on the first tee and Sam Snead coming all the way from the coast for one round of golf. None of this had anything to do with the tournament proper, it apparently being Mr. May's idea that the less attention paid to that, the better it might be for all concerned.

MAKING THE HEADLINES.

In the circumstances, it seems unlikely now that he's fixing suddenly to operate on lines of artless, unaffected simplicity in which one guy, who never before won a capital prize, plays another, who's just begging to get good, all day long for the right to determine which of them isn't quite as good as the other.

There have been great man-for-man matches, of course. Hagen versus Sarazen, for example. Also Hagen versus Bobby Jones, Hagen versus Abe Mitchell of England, and Hagen versus Archie Compson of England. But you'll notice that these were personality guys, the kind who hit the headlines with an audible thump. Byrd and McSpaden just happen to be first-rate golfers who by themselves wouldn't draw conclusions.

So Mr. May, being a smart operator, may be confidently expected to toss in a floor show. Or a six-day bicycle race, a rodeo, a medicine show and the tunnel of love. Or all five. That's one thing about the gentleman—he never errs on the sparse side.

Hazards Of War

'Dixie' Dazzler Is Through With Tennis; His Racquet Arm Was Pierced by Shell.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 31 — (AP)—At 26, Lt. Ernest Sutter is through with competitive tennis—his career ended by a German shell which pierced his racquet arm at Mateur—and thus goes glimmering the last Sutter hope for the national championship.

For several years, the Sutter boys of New Orleans—first Cliff, then Eddie, then Ernie—have been bidding for the highest United States net crown. Cliff came close —within two points, in fact—and Ernie was the boy they said would go all the way.

But came North Africa and now the youngest Sutter boy, the former national intercollegiate and southern champion is in Kennedy army hospital here recuperating from wounds which he says will prevent him from ever taking the competitive court again.

Shell Pierced Arm.

"I was in anti-aircraft," said the stocky young lieutenant. "I was knocking up a few lobs at the German stukas during the last stages of the North African campaign. A shell went clean through my right arm and another hit me in the head, knocking my steel helmet 30 feet.

"The doctors say they should be able to make my right arm 100 per cent new again, but it would take me a couple or three years to get strength back in it. I'll never play tournament tennis again."

3 Kid Clubs All Even at Miles City

MILES CITY, Mont., Aug., 31 —(INS)—Three teams today remained in the running as the playoffs in the American Legion's 1943 kids "world series" were resumed at Miles City, with each team having lost one game.

One more loss for either team —Minneapolis, New Orleans and Springfield, O., means its exit form the tourney.

Minneapolis, featuring the team's powerhouse hitting, won over Springfield, 9 to 5, yesterday afternoon. The score:

Minneapolis	0	0	3	1	1	0	2	2	x—9	13	1
Springfield	0	0	3	0	2	0	0	0	0—4	4	9

The game last night between Minneapolis and Springfield was called after four and a half innings, at which time the game was declared "no game." Springfield led, 1 to 0, over Minneapolis as the game ended, due to unfavorable weather.

Pacific Coast League

No Monday games; team traveling.

Wilson On Spot

Baseball Rumors Revived That Cub Manager Wilson Doomed Get Walking Order.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31—(INS)—The following, printed in a New York paper, should come as a slight shock locally, since nobody around here has been paying this particular situation any noteworthy heed:

"Out in Chicago, they are howling for Jimmy Wilson's scalp again, and it appears unlikely that Wilson will be retained for the 1944 season, unless he gets the Cubs into the first division before the current season ends. One report has it that Larry Gilbert of Nashville is slated for the job, but don't be surprised if it goes to Stan Hack."

Perhaps Nobody Cares.

Meantime, Chicago fans are fully prepared not to be surprised even if it were Trainer Andy Lotshaw. That is, if it goes to anybody other than incumbent Wilson.

The club has made money. James T. Gallagher, the general manager, is well in the clear with the Wrigley interests on that point, and undoubtedly can write his own ticket as to who'll manage the club and who won't. Wilson's his man and, for all anybody knows, he has never changed. And, for all anybody deeply cares, he needn't.

Ex-Gopher Gridder Victim of Murder

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 31 — (INS)—A $50 reward was offered today for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Sgt. Kendall R. Scharnweber of Rochester, Minn., who was shot to death near Columbia Friday night. According to Sheriff T. Alex Heise, the reward was posted anonymously.

Meanwhile, the sergeant's woman companion, who was stabbed, was reported still in a critical condition by hospital attaches.

Scharnweber, a former University of Minnesota football player was shot through the heart. He was stationed at nearby Fort Jackson.

Camp Club Hangs It On Cleveland

CAMP GRANT, Ill., Aug. 31—(INS)—Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians knew today that as a pitcher he's a good shortstop and that Vern Kennedy as a shortstop is a good pitcher.

Short on pitchers, Boudreau took the mound himself yesterday in an exhibition game with the Camp Grant Warriors and was battered for three hits which, coupled with Kennedy's two errors at short, gave the Soldiers four runs in the first inning and paved the way to the Warriors' 8 to 4 victory.

Ray Poat took over in the second inning for the Indians and finished Boudreau's pitching chores.

A seven-run pitching performance by Bob Carpenter, former New York Giants' hurler, held the Indians in check.

Three more Cleveland errors, two of them by Jimmy Grant, helped the Warriors score their other four runs. Grant, however, lashed out a homer for the final Indian run in the eighth inning.

Four Clubs May Trek To Omaha

Fords, Lincoln Steel and Stop Nut are decidedly in the running as qualifiers for the state softball tournament at Omaha, beginning late this week. Meantime, Motor Inn possibly may make the grade, as the prospects at Omaha indicate a shortage of teams, on which basis the tournament management may invite all four capital city clubs.

In Monday night's elimination games at Muny, Fords nosed ahead of Stop Nut, 4 to 3, when Schroeder connected with a circuit drive in the eighth inning.

In the Lincoln Steel-Motor Inn game, the Steelers won by the comfortable margin of 5 to 1.

Two class B tourney games—Simons vs. Journal and Air Base vs. Red Ball—are on the Tuesday night slate, plus an exhibition game pitting the Creamery Package girls of Omaha against the Blackbird femmes of Lincoln at 9 p. m. Monday night's scores:

"T" Man Talking

Shaughnessy, Pitt U. Coach, Asserts His Gridiron Squad Aggregation of 'Greenies.'

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31—(AP)—The University of Pittsburgh, once synonomous with the mighty in football, is fielding a new-deal team this autumn which will cause many old grads to rub their eyes to make certain it's a Pitt team.

Clark Shaughnessy, coming to Pitt just five years after its football bubble was deflated, has put in a sweeping transformation.

Instead of old-fashioned power plays which made Jock Sutherland the outstanding eastern coach of the '30s, he has installed his famous "T" formation. This has been accompanied by a flock of other changes, including the scrapping of the team's traditional gold and blue uniforms for bright red and white ones.

Bunch of Kids.

But with a war on, the former Chicago and Stanford coach will not guarantee one change—a powerful comeback by the Panthers. That's because the bulk of his squad is made up of 17-year-olds.

"This is not a bad locking squad, said Shaughnessy, whose Panthers open against Notre Dame here Sept. 25. "If I had it for two years, I think Pitt would be okay. But these boys are just babies They haven't the maturity and we're not going to be in a class with teams using service stars. We had 75 out for summer drills at one time.

The Pitt schedule: Sept. 25, Notre Dame; Oct. 9, West Virginia; 16, Illinois at Champaign; 30, Carnegie Tech; No. 6, Ohio State; 13, Nebraska at Lincoln, 20, Penn State.

Columbus Youth Is Husker Bound

Ted Kenfield, brilliant triple-threat back at Columbus high school and who starred in spring grid drills at Stanford, has decided to enroll at the University fo Nebraska.

Young Kenfield attended Stanford last spring. His decision to bid for a Husker berth was influenced by the foldup of Stanford football for the duration.

His father O. L. Kenfield, former principal of schools at Columbus, has accepted the principalship of the Calaveras junior high school at San Andreas, Calif.

Leo the Lip Is Divorce Defendant

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31—(INS)—The wife of Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, sought a divorce today in the St. Louis circuit court.

Mrs. Grace Dozier Durocher charged that her husband was "possessed of a very uneven temperament" and often without provocation denounced her in "abusive language." She described him as "constantly of a nagging disposition."

Sh said he had grown cold and indifferent and was squandering his money in automobile and airplane trips. She asked for restoration of her former name, Grace L. Dozier, suitable alimony and all costs of the suit.

In her professional life, Mrs. Durocher is known as Carol King and is a widely known dress designer and partner in a large dress manufacturing company.

She and Durocher were married in St. Louis Sept. 27, 1934, and continued living together until last week, the suit said.

YIELDS 4 WALKS IN 20 GAMES

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Aug. 31—(AP)—Irvin Stein may not be the greatest pitcher of the year in baseball — Rip Sewell of the Pittsburgh Pirates has his eyes set on that honor — but Stein has established a record he believes will make major leaguers sit up and take notice.

The No. 1 pitcher of the Piedmont league-leading Portsmouth Cubs has already hurled 20 complete contests this season, and the odd thing about Stein's performance is that he has walked only four batters.

Irvin Stein

Of the 20 games, 17 went on the record books as victories, the other three were losses—one of them to Cuban Julio Acosta, of the Richmond Colts, who held Portsmouth hitless.

Stein, who pitched last year for Charleston, S. C., of the South Atlantic league, expects to have little trouble scoring 20 victories this season and he hopes to top the all-time Piedmont mound mark of 27 triumphs set way back in 1926.

The Cub hurler doesn't know why he's been so successful in holding bases on balls to a minimum. He went a full dozen games once this year without issuing a single pass.

Conn On His List

Champion Joe Stands Ready Give Bill First Whirl At Title When the War Ends.

BOSTON, Aug. 31 — (INS) — Champion Joe Louis, while in Boston yesterday, told Jack Conway, sports editor of the Boston American, that he will defend his championship against Billy Conn when the war ends, provided it still is the best boxing show to offer the public.

"I rate Billy Conn as the No. 1 challenger," said the heavyweight boxing king. "I place Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland second and Lee Savold, who has been boxing in Chicago, third.

"I believe right now that the fans would like to see me box Conn again, and if they feel the same way about the matter when the war ends, I'll do so.

Rates Bivins Highly.

"As far as fighting condition is concerned, Bivins has something on Conn and myself now . He has been boxing regularly and if he does not enter the army, he will be in better condition than any of us when the war ends.

"If I win from Conn, I shall give Bivins, Savold and any other heavyweight a crack at my title if the fans wish and Mike Jacobs is willing to stage them.

"If I fight Conn again I won't stand off and box him as much as I did in our last bout. I'll crowd him more and hit him with more punches. I was not so fast as Conn in our last bout and he proved the better boxer. It was not until I started throwing all the punches I could at him that I won by a knockout."

Champion Shows Off At Camps

TAUNTON, Mass., Aug. 31 — (INS) — Sergeant Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion, was at Camp Myles Standish today for his second show in his 100 army camap tour as a morale builder.

The brown bomber scored in both departments last night at Fort Devens, where he opened his tour. The champion boxed an exhibition with First Sergeant George Nicholson, his old sparring partner.

With Louis on the tour is Corporal Ray "Sugar" Robinson and Jackie 'Kid) Wilson, who also are assisting Louis in the boxing exhibitions.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By WALTER KIERNAN.

Well, the draft board has put the finger on a cop with six children in Yonkers, N. Y.

And I don't know what goes on, but apparently they are not only going to draft fathers but they are going to pick only the guys with the biggest families.

Of course the fellows with five or six children usually are those who have been married the longest and who are the oldest in the father-draft group.

So with unerring accuracy, they are called up first.

And if that isn't building up a post-war headache for this country I don't know what is.

We are going to end up supporting millions of children and their mothers during and after this war because somebody has decided that it's worth it to get some more flat-footed, bowed-down soldiers.

Not one but many officers have said on and off the record that the fellow in his late thirties, married, softened-up, is not soldier material, but you can't make the manpower or draft boys believe it.

Thought for the day: What ever became of horse sense?

DAILY PATTERN

Flatterer!

The smooth, slimming lines of this all-occasion frock make it a prime favorite with the shoppers. And the soft collar in contrast diverts attention from any little figure problems here and there.

Pattern No. 8461 is available in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4⅜ yards of 35 or 39-inch material for the short-sleeve version, ⅜ yard contrast for collar.

For this attractive pattern, send 15 cents, plus 1 cent for postage, in coins, with your name, address, pattern number and size to The Lincoln Star, Today's Pattern Service, 530 So. Wells St., Chicago.

Imagine a pre-vue of 102 new patterns, interesting news of colors, fashions and fabrics AND the problems of wartime wardrobe planning thoroughly discussed all in one entertaining publication. That's what you'll find in the new fall issue of "Fashion," out today. Price, 25 cents.

BRAIN TWIZZLERS

By Prof J. D Flint

An eccentric old man who didn't trust savings banks because of different rumors he had heard about them made a practice of keeping his money in little boxes around the room in which he lived. He had one box for his rent money, one for his food money and two others which contained money for miscellaneous purposes.

At one time the total amount of money in all the boxes was thirty-two dollars. Due to changes in the amount of rent the old man had to pay and changes in his food and other costs of living, he had to change the amounts of money in the different boxes. When he got all through with his task he found an interesting thing, if he added three to the number of dollars in the first box, subtracted three from the next, multiplied the next by three and divided the fourth by three, he got the same answer each time.

How many dollars did the old man have in each box and what was the number that he got for an answer in each case?

Answer To Yesterday's Twizzler.

Scottsbluff Man Receives DFC Award

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31—(AP)—Cpl. Harvey W. Calame of Scottsbluff, Neb., was one of a heavy bombardment group of 36 officers and men decorated for fighting in the Pacific for 19 months with no loss of equipment or personnel. He received the distinguished flying cross.

Lincoln Statue Face At Capitol Green—With Envy?

. . . Experts Consulted

Visitors to the capitol in increasing numbers keep asking why the face on Abraham Lincoln's statue isn't lifted.

It is nearly covered with a green deposit that gives sightseers the idea Nebraska has neglected the emancipator. This is so marked that not long ago a taxi driver who had often been asked the question by strangers went to Governor Griswold as a public duty and to get an answer.

The governor turned the subject over to Charles Allen, then custodian. Mr. Allen first thought he would give the statue a beauty treatment but on second thought remembered that similar bronze pieces he saw years before on a tour of Europe were green or much greener and wrote the Smithsonian Institution.

This was a year ago and the statue is still green.

Analysis Suggested.

A. Wetmore, of the Smithsonian institute explained that before the statue is touched an analysis of the patina or substance covering the bronze, should be made. If it is a hard substance in contrast with a pale green powdery oxidation, it is normal and harmless, the expert wrote. In case it is the harmless type of deposit he advised doing little, suggesting not too much beauty treatment with a brass wire wheel operating in a stream of water. A very mild 5 per cent solution of sulphuric acid would assist, he wrote, but only after a competent chemist analyzed the deposit and found the procedure harmless.

The statue was not touched, so it is presumed the green patina is the right type and that the statue is aging according to Hoyle.

T. H. Riggs, newly appointed custodian, called attention to the bronze buffalo in Pioneers park which is much greener than Abraham Lincoln. So it seems that Abraham Lincoln's likeness on the capitol grounds is on the way to a green old age.

Wheat Gains Fractionally

CHICAGO, Aug. 31—(AP)—A strong undertone developed in wheat today despite rather cautious and quiet trading and prices inched forward to the best levels since early in July.

Trade was slowed by uncertainty over the amount of the notices of intention to deliver whea on September contracts which were scheduled to be filed after the market closed.

Wheat eased off toward the finish and closed below the day's peak, but was ¼@⅝ cent above yesterday's close, September $1.46⅞@¾, oats unchanged to ¼c down, September 74@74⅛, and rye was mixed ½ cent lower to to 1 cent higher, September, $1.03½@⅝.

'Peace' Issues Are In Demand

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—The stock market today emerged from the August doldrums with a broad and relatively active recovery led mainly by industrial favorites with bright peace prospects.

Gains ran to a point or more at the best but these were whittled down after mid-day by profit taking. Dealings slowed appreciably as board rooms gave an ear to the Churchill broadcast. Near-closing prices generally were higher, transfers were around 650,000 shares.

Conspicuous on the comeback were motors, rubbers, golds, foods, mail orders and specialties.

Consolidated laundries, Dome Mines and Allied Mills edged to peaks for 1943. Popular also were General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, oodrich, Goodyear, Armour, Wilson & Co., McIntyre Porcupine, Montgomery Ward, Pepsi-Cola, oils, copper and rails were narrow.

Bonds tilted upward.

before the legislative investigating committee, was not registered as a lobbyist.

The law on the subject, Secretary of State Frank Marsh showed, holds:

"It shall be the duty of every person, firm, corporation or association, within two months after the adjournment of the legislature, to file in the office of the secretary of state an itemized statement verified by the oath of such person; or in case of a firm, by a member thereof; or in case of a domestic corporation or association, by an officer thereof; or in case of a foreign corporation or association, by an officer or agent thereof; showing in detail all expenses paid, incurred or primised directly or indirectly in connection with the legislation pending at the last previous session, with the names of payees and the amount paid to each including all disbursements paid, incurred or promised to counsel or agents, and also specifying the nature of such legislation and the interest of the person, firm, corporation or association therein. The provisions, however, of this article requiring docket entries shall not apply to duly accredited counsel or agents, of counties, cities, towns, villages, public boards and public institutions; and the provisions hereof shall not be construed as affecting professional services in drafting bills or in advising clients and in rendering bills or ions as to the construction and effect of proposed or pending legislation where such professional service is not otherwise connected with legislative action. Every person, every member of any firm, and every association or corporation violating any provision of this article, and every person causing or participating in a violation thereon, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, in case of an individual, shall be punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary or county jail for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ,or both; and in case of an association or corporation, by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. In addition to the penalties hereinbefore imposed any corporation or association failing to file the statement of legislative expenses within the time required shall forfeit to the state of Nebraska the sum of one hundred dollars per day for each day after the expiration of the two months within which such statement is required to be filed, to be recovered in an action to be brought by the attorney general."

Attorney General Walter Johnson said that he had no comment to make on the situation at the present time, but would follow any recommendations made to him by the investigating committee.

CHURCHILL

will cross the channel in full force and come to close quarters with the German invaders of France.

Time Is a Secret.

"You would certainly not wish me to tell you when that is likely to happen or whether it be near or far, but whenever the great blow is struck you may be sure that it will be because we are satisfied that there is a good prospect of continuing success and that our soldiers are expended in accordance with sound military plans and not squandered for political considerations of any kind."

Churchill said a tripartite meeting among Britain, the United States and Russia "would be of very great advantage to everyone, and indeed to the whole free world, if our unity of thought and decision upon practical measures to the longer future as well as upon strategic problems could be reached between the three great opponents of the Hitlerite tyranny."

Italy Paying Penalty.

Turning to beleaguered Italy, Churchill said:

"Mussolini has been overthrown. The war impulse of Italy has been destroyed and that unhappy country is paying a terrible penalty for allowing itself to be misled by false and criminal guides. How much easier it is to join bad companions than to shake them!"

Churchill said a large number of German troops had lately been drawn from France "in order to hold down the Italian people" and to make Italy a battleground so as to keep the war as far distant from Germany and as prolonged as possible.

By far the greatest part of the German air force, he said, has been drained from the Russian front and is now being engaged and "worn down with ever growing intensity night and day by British and American and Canadian airmen."

The terrific aerial attack against Germany, Churchill said, would not have been possible without the magnificent stand of the Russans against Hitler's forces.

No country, he declared, ever had withstood such a devastating attack as that thrown at the Russians.

The fate of King Boris of Bulgaria, he pointed out, might serve as a warning to other rulers that "the wages of sin is death."

At present, Churchill pointed out, Britain's principal activity aganst Japan must of necessity be centered in India.

Any speculation on when the war would end Churchill described as "vain and unprofitable."

Stalin, said Britain's war leader, cannot at present leave the Russian battlefront where he is directing offensives.

"To judge by the latest news, from the Russian battlefronts, Marshal Stalin is certainly not wasting his time."

Flyer Crash Kills 27

. . . 150 Hurt In N. Y.

WAYLAND, N. Y., Aug. 31—(AP)—Twenty-seven persons were dead today—many of them from inhaling live steam—after the crack Lackawanna Limited passenger train and a switch engine crashed headon near this southwestern New York community late yesterday afternoon.

Approximately 150 others of the 500 passengers on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western's New York-to-Buffalo Express were injured, several of them seriously in New York's worst train disaster in more than three years.

Moans of the injured mingled with the escaping steam from the switch engine as scores of volunteers dug into the tangled debris to effect rescues and remove the dead. The toll was the state's highest on a railroad since April 19, 1940, when the Lake Shore Limited of the New York Central lines crashed on a sharp curve at Little Falls, killing 31 and injuring 135.

Meet at Switch.

The engineer of the Limited, James E. Leroy of Buffalo, said the train was speeding through Wayland when he saw the switch engine on a siding paralleling the main line westbound track.

"The engineer of the local freight locomotive apparently was confused and thought the Limited had gone through and started to pull out on the main line to continue switching," he said. "When I saw the other engine pulling out, I slammed on the Limited's emergency brakes, but it was going too fast to avert a collision. The two locomotives met at the switch."

The limited, a 13-car train, sheared off the front end of the switch engine and cracked the driving cylinder. The switch engine remained upright on the spur track.

The limited locomotive hurtled down the track and toppled broadside across two main line tracks and two spurs. Three coaches, the diner, a baggage car and mail car were derailed.

OPA Raises Ban On Eastern Coast Pleasure Driving

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(INS)—Gasoline rationing resumed its old familiar pattern today as the OPA lifted the ban on east coast pleasure driving effective Wednesday but placed motorists "on their honor" not to use gas for nonessential driving.

The "honor system," tried after removal of the first pleasure driving ban early this year, proved ineffective at that time.

This latest action on the gasoline front apparently was made against the wishes of Petroleum Administrator Ickes who has been reluctant to lift the ban on pleasure driving due to low gasoline stocks.

Because Ickes controls allocation of gasoline for civilian use, it is believed the administrator may refuse to grant east coast drivers any increase in their gas allotments—at least until late this fall or during the winter.

Coincident with the removal of the pleasure driving ban in a joint statement of OPA and PAW, it was disclosed that the enforcement staff of OPA will now be put to the job of prosecuting "vigorously" persons engaged in the black market of gasoline.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 31—(AP)—Reports already received here from Denmark indicated today at least 2,000 persons were killed or wounded in fighting which began before dawn Sunday between Danish soldiers, sailors and civilians and the German occupation army..

ESTATE FILINGS

Petition for probate of the will of Lulu H. Alexander who died July 28 was filed in County court Monday afternoon by her husband, Andrew J. Alexander, to whom, under terms of the will, all the property is left. Heirs at law mentioned in the petition are two brothers of the deceased, Sheridan Moore, Portland, Ore.; and Harry Moore, Hubbard, Ore.; besides two nephews. The will nominates the widower as executor.

Petition to probate the will of George A. Burgess, who died Aug. 10, was filed in County court Tuesday. It asked that George Burgess, jr, be named executor. The will stated that the estate was to be divided equally among eight of ten children, William and Joseph, Denton; Harry and George, Lincoln; Lillie Alstadt, Fort Morgan; Maud Haas and Ada Luckhardt, Denton, and Jessie H. Steinhausen, Lincoln. The other two children, Annie Osborn, Wiggins, Colo., and Mary Laub, Lincoln, already have been provided for, the will pointed out.

$11 In Church Fund Is Reported Missing

Mrs. Carl Warner, 1347 Saunders, went out in her back yard Sunday afternoon to feed her rabbits and returned a half hour later to find $11 missing from a church fund in her keeping, she told Officer Paul Jones Monday.

Mrs. Warner said the money was tied in a handkerchief in her purse. Only part of the fund was taken.

Japs At Wewak Blasted

. . . At Least 37, Possibly 49 Planes Destroyed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 31—(AP)—Liberators and Lightnings, in a 114-ton bombing attack on Wewak, New Guinea, have added at least 37 Japanese planes, and possibly 49, to the more than 300 destroyed there since mid-August.

This new air victory, scored Sunday, was reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in a communique which also disclosed that allied troops hold strong ridge positions above as well as below the airdrome at Salamaua, 350 miles below Wewak.

At Wewak, where the enemy has sent in reinforcements to replace losses which have been mounting since Aug. 17, the Liberators wiped out at least 12 planes on the ground while the Lightnings, in furious battles with 60 Zeros, downed 25 for certain, 12 probably, and damaged at least 17 others.

Losses Light.

"Our losses were light," the communique said.

Previous communiques on the land fighting at Salamaua have been concerned mainly with action below the airdrome where American and Australian jungle forces have edged to the southwestern end of the air strip. But today's communique told of allied forces repulsing Japanese counterattacks Saturday night and early Sunday on Kila ridge. Kila is a small town above the airdrome and slightly west of Salamaua.

Along a nearby ridge, which runs southward, allied troops threw back the Japanese and killed at least 40 of the enemy, a spokesman said.

The Wewak raiders, in addition to destroying enemy planes, started explosions and fires among ammunition and fuel dumps.

Decree Made Final

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 31—(INS)—Comedian George Jessel, 44, and Lois Andrews, former Broadway showgirl who became his bride when she was 16, today had put a legal finis to their spring-autumn romance.

Miss Andrews' attorneys appeared in Superior court and obtained a judicial decree making final the interlocutory divorce she obtained from Jessel on Aug. 24, 1942.

The court approved a property settlement wherein Miss Andrews will receive $100 a week alimony from Jessel for life, providing she does not remarry, and $50 a week support for their child, Jerilynn, 2.

Search Pressed For Slayer Of A WAC Corporal

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 31—(INS)—Investigation into the murder of Maoma Ridings, attractive WAC corporal and a former nurse at Warm Springs, Ga., took a new turn today with evidence that she may have been criminally attacked before she was killed Saturday night in the Claypool hotel.

Marion County Coroner Dr. Roy B. Storms, who attended the autopsy at Fort Benjamin Harrison, said the examnation indicated the young woman had been criminally assaulted.

Heretofore the sole clue had been the statement of a bellboy, Alfred Bayne, that when he served soft drinks to Corp. Ridings' room he had seen a "black-haired woman in black." Efforts had been centered on learning the identity of the mysterious visitor on the possibility the slayer was a woman.

Served as F. D. R.'s Nurse.

Army physicians determined Corp. Ridings had been killed from blows on the head. A broken whisky bottle, presumably the weapon, lay near her body.

Corp. Ridings, a divorcee, was born at Abbeville, Ga., and served as a physiotherapist at Warm Springs from 1927 to 1931 some time after attending Georgia State Normal school.

At Warm Springs, as a nurse, she became acquainted with President Roosevelt when he was governor of New York. The corporal's grandmother, Mrs. Annie Bulloch, recalled in Warm Springs that Naoma was "quite popular" with Mr. Roosevelt.

"He used to call her 'Husky' because she was so strong," Mrs. Bulloch said, "and he would tell her she was one of his favorite nurses."

July Output Of Munitions Shows Rise

...But WPB Head Warns Against Curtailment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(INS)—Munitions production in July was revealed today to have increased 3 per cent over June.

War production board chairman Donald M. Nelson said he was "moderately pleased" with the gradual rise from the May and June "plateau," but warned against any curtailment of production.

"If our production goals are to be achieved," he said, "production step-ups must continue during the next six months the good record of production increases of the past year and a half."

Nelson described a 17 per cent increase in signal equipment output as "one of the most noteworthy achievements of the month."

In vital aircraft production, he said that heavy bombers gained 13 per cent, fighter planes 19 per cent, and transport planes eight per cent. With a monthly goal of 8,000 planes of all types, July production was 7,373 aircraft.

Nelson reported that 10,000,000 tons of shipping had been completed by the end of July. The yearly goal is 19,000,000 tons.

Wilhelmina Is 63

LONDON, Aug. 31—(INS)—Exiled Queen Whilhelmina of the Netherlands quietly observed her 63rd birthday today—her fourth since she was driven from her native land by the German invaders.

The queen's personal plans for the holiday were not announced in advance, but several large gatherings in her honor were scheduled in London, Curacao, New York, Surinam and other Dutch-populated places.

—SALARY BOOSTS—

City Pay Schedule Approved

. . . Wilkinson Votes An 'Aye' After Protest

A number of slight changes were made in the salary resolution, fixing the pay of city employes, before it was approved by the council Monday. All of the changes were in the pay of the three attorneys. Except the three directors, who were given $600 each additional remuneration for the coming year, and the attorneys, all other employes were raised 10 per cent on the first $100 a month and 5 per cent on the next $100 or fraction.

Ever since the present form of government was set up the three directors were given a salary of $3,600 a year. (Because of his extra duties as city clerk, Finance Director Theo Berg was given an additional $650 which mide his annual salary $4,250. With the added $600 he will for the coming year draw $4,850.)

$5,600 Annual Pay.

In addition to his $3,600 as director, D. L. Erickson has been paid $1,400 a year as city engineer. Now he will receive $5,600. As director of public safety and welfare, Cobe S. Venner will receinve $4,200.

During the past year City Attorney Max Kier has received $3,600 a year. A short time ago, the council agreed informally to reduce this to $2,400. However, before the resolution was passed Monday, this was raised to $3,000. Prior to the year which is now near its end Kier received $1,800, the additional $1,800 for this year having been added because of what the councilmen believed was "exceptional service" given during the purchase of lands for the air base and other problems incidental to that expansion of the air port.

Deputy City Attorney A. A. Whitworth has been receiving $250 a month, or $3,000 annually, and Jack Devoe as assistant attorney has been paid $1,500 a year. Under the schedule approved yesterday they will receive $3,100 and $1,800 a year, respectively.

Asks Deferment

When the resolution fixing the salaries was presented, Councilman Rees Wilkinson protested, indicating he opposed the raises to the directors, by announcing, "I have the highest regard for the ability of the directors," and hoped that the increases would be deferred until new sources of revenue were developed. What these new sources would be, he did not state.

Wilkinson also stated that he was opposed to "shocking cuts" while the pay of others was increased ,and contended that no city employe receiving more than $3,000 annually should be given more pay.

Plainly vexed at the statement, Mayor Lloyd Marti asked the councilman, "Do you want to kill this resolution? If you do I know where you can get two votes to do it."

The clerk finished calling the roll and Wilkinson voted "aye," making approval of the schedule unanimous.

Gives Life For Dog

MANITOWOC, Wis., Aug. 31—(INS)—James P. Sexton, 23-year-old seaman first class, was dead today because he tried to save the life of a pet dog, mascot on the coast guard cutter Tamarack, of which Sexton was a crew member.

Sexton drowned after diving into the Manitowoc river near the shipyards in an attempt to rescue the dog. His body, recovered an hour later by a navy diver, will be taken to Cleveland, his home, for burial.

Invasion Of 'Toe' Reported

...Nazis Claim British Try To Land in Italy Fails

LONDON, Aug. 31—(AP)—The German radio declared today that British troops attempted a minor landing in Italy southeast of Reggio Calabria across from Sicily, but that it was "immediately scotched."

The German broadcast was recorded by Reuters. No details were given.

Reggio Calabria lies just across the strait of Messina from Sicily, and a landing to the "southeast" would have been on the very bottom of the toe of Italy.

No London Comment.

The landing was attempted Sunday by 400 men, the broadcast said.

The German reports brought no official comment in London and were viewed with skepticism.

It was felt here that if any landing was made it might have been a small scale, hit-and-run attack against some enemy installation, a reconnaissance penetration or feint to keep the enemy defenses on edge and cover activities elsewhere.

No announcement was expected from the allied command.

Elvera Anderson, Nurse, Dies While On Duty at Hospital

Elvera Anderson, 49, nurse at St. Elizabeth hospital for over six years, died of a heart attack Monday afternoon while at work. She had gone to the ice-box for ice cream when she was stricken.

Surviving are her father, John Anderson of Walton; four brothers, Carl W. and J. Fred of Walton, John B. of Greenwood and August of Lincoln; four sisters, Mrs. E. A. Wilner, Denver; Mrs. Henry Duerr of Milwaukee; Mrs. W. R. Schoenleber of Walton and Judith Anderson at home.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday at the Grace Lutheran church at Walton, Rev. Alfred Mendenhall in charge. Burial will be in Wyuka cemetery.

REDUCTION PLANT GETS COUNCIL OK

. . . Zoning Law Changed

Changes were made in the zoning regulations by the city council Monday that will permit the Lincoln Packing Co. to expand its operations to include what officials term a "reduction" plant. The expansion includes the addition of more buildings and equipment at a cost approximated at $250,000, for which bids already have been called.

Before the amending ordinance was approved by unanimous vote, the measure was changed to provide that the plant must be constructed so that there will be "no offensive odors off the premises." If this provision is carried out there will be no objections on the part of a group of businessmen who had filed a protest with the council some time ago.

Letter From Dietz.

That it is the intention of the company to comply with the ordinance requirements is indicated in a letter, signed by Jesse M. Dietz ,the vice president. It says:

"We agree that in the event our grease skimming basin is not as represented as to sanitation, that we will then make the required corrections to suit you or your representatives upon resolution of the council."

Passed with an emergency clause attached, the ordinance becomes effective as soon as published.

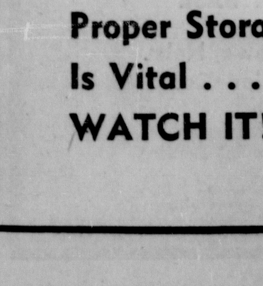

Read a first time by the council was an ordinance requiring that all packing operations carried on by the company must be in full compliance with federal inspection and all other regulations.

Credit Unions Meet To Discuss LB 255

The Lincoln chapter of Credit Unions met Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of acquainting the twenty occupational credit associations of Lincoln with the procedure necessary to reorganize in accordance with Nebraska's new credit union act, LB 255.

James Barry, Kansas City, regional managing director, and John Eidana, Omaha, gave talks on the law, which went into effect Aug. 29. R. M. Lodivig, chapter, presided at the meeting.

Folks have been calling, they are excited because mold is forming on the outside of their stored jars. Don't worry, this does not mean that your food is spoiling.

The following formula will help stop this condition:

Remove each jar from the shelf carefully and wash with a strong vinegar water (1 cup vinegar to 1 quart hot water). Wipe jars dry, place on clean paper where jars will get air circulation. Next wash the shelves with vinegar water to remove mold and odor. Turn a fan on the shelves to help speed drying. Replace jars on shelf leaving 2" air space betwen each jar. DO NOT line shelves with paper—it attracts moisture.

Important—Check your stored foods at least once a month.

—CITY COUNCIL—

Protests 35th St. Project

. . . 'Opening Would Hurt Property'—Stalons

Taken under advisement by the city council Monday was a proposal by Attorney Guy C. Chambers that plans for the opening of Thirty-fifth street from J to L be modified. To go through with the proposed project, Chambers contended, will virtually destroy the value of the property of his client, W. H. Stalons, through cutting off one corner of it.

As an alternate, Attorney Chambers proposed that the opening process start at Thirty-fifth street and Woods avenue, and run in a straight line to L, at its a junction with Thirty-sixth street.

North and south from J street, Thirty-fifth street is a sweeping arc which finds its way to O street. It is the city's plan to cut across the Stalons property from Thirty-fifth and J to Thirty-sixth and thence to L from the same point suggested by Chambers.

Better Route Sought.

Suggestion that the street be opened arose from a petition seeking a closer route for children who go to the Randolph school. At present they must go a long way around, because there is no north and south street between Thirty-third and Fortieth streets.

The Stalons property is what once was the home of the late A. E. Edgren, for many years county engineer. When Thirty-fifth street was platted it was the intention to cut through this land as is now being considered.

With this in mind, the city several years ago purchased a strip 60 feet wide and 350 feet long for the opening of Thirty-sixth street. A strip 60 feet wide and about 250 long would be used to cross the Stalons land, thereby leaving a small triangle about 58 feet wide and 140 feet long along one side.

Two Lots Needed.

Under the proposal by Mr. Chamber's client it would be necessary for the city to purchase two lots between L and Woods avenue that have been platted, to acquire a right of way 60 by 250 to Woods avenue.

In submitting his proposal Chambers pointed to the improvements now on his client's property, the value of which has been fixed by an appraiser at $24,000 and for which he has refused $30,000. Chambers declared. If the plan of the city is carried through, Chambers added, the damage to the property will aggregate no less than $7,500, of which $3,000 was listed as cost of paving.

Three years ago this same controversy arose, and nothing was done. Now, the council will view the property Friday, and as soon as a decision is reached the work will go ahead as authority has been obtained from the WPB to do so.

Fibber And Molly Married 25 Years

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 31—(AP)—James and Marian Jordan—they were bride and groom in the first World war—observed their silver wedding anniversary today.

Better known as comedians Fibber McGee and Molly, they met in a Peoria, Ill., church choir and Jordan went off to war five days after their marriage. Six weeks later he was in France.

The Jordans have a daughter, Kathryn, 22, aircraft plant worker, and a son, James, jr., who recently received a medical discharge from the army.

The bones of Ponce de Leon lie in San Juan cathedral in Puerto Rico.

Griswold Wagers Hog State Will Top Bond Sales

"One beautiful, big, corn-fed Nebraska hog" is the wager that Gov. Dwight Griswold would make with the governor of any other state, that Nebraska buys more war bonds proportionately than others in the drive to open Sept. 9.

Griswold, in a letter mailed to the other executives, said, "Reading the paper these days would make it appear that most of our states are somewhat short of meat. I'd like to do what I can to alleviate this condition for you and yours."

Briefly, here's his offer:

To wager such a "beautiful, corn-fed" hog, worth about $35 on the present market, against "whatever you care to put up for your state of similar value."

The Nebraska governor wrote he will wager "that Nebraska will exceed its war bond quota by more percentage points than will your state."

The offer is an attempt to further the "competitive spirit" in the field of war bond sales, he explained.

Although he would not attempt to predict how many other governor would accept, Griswold said he felt quite certain the "tough customers," whose states usually rank high in sales, would respond.
